Snow, Sleet And Cold

Severe Weather Hits Wide Area Of Eastern U.S.

(By The Associated Press)
Snow, sleet, cold and raw winds gripped broad areas in the eastern half of the nation today — the worst weather of the winter in some sections.

The snow, which extended deep into the Southland, blank-

Snow Squalls Start As Cold Snap Arrives

Dense snow squalls started shortly before noon as a cold front moved in, dropping temperatures to below freezing but cutting off rain that fell nearly 18 hours. There may be 3 to 5 inches of snow.

The rain began late Wednesday afternoon and Lockmaster Charles Boughner had recorded 1.14 inches 7 a. m. today, with an additional 0.25 inch by noon for a total of 1.39 inches.

eted at least 21 states, from New Mexico and Colorado to Michigan and southward into Mississippi.

The storm disrupted normal activities and inconvenienced millions. Snow, heavy in many northern states, piled up to a foot in parts of Illinois, including Springfield and the Chicago area.

Gusty winds hampered snow removal operations and traffic conditions were described as the worst in many years in some cities. Plane, train and highway travel was seriously disrupted. Schools in many areas were closed because of blocked highways.

Heavy snow headed from the eastern Great Lakes region and the Upper Ohio Valley to interior sections of New England.

Below-zero weather again stung the north-central region. The cold air dropped deep into Dixie, with freezing temperatures as far southward as Mobile, Ala., on the Gulf of Mexico.

The Weather Bureau said no general immediate relief appeared but forecasters said there was a possibility of a "slight warming trend in a few days."

Snow fell in Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia and Louisiana. Heavy snow warnings were posted for Lower Michigan, Indiana and northwestern Ohio, ranging from 4 to 7 inches.

The mercury dipped to 30 above in Atlanta, a drop of 22 degrees in a few hours. In Mobile, the early morning reading of 31 compared to Wednesday's high of 73, a plunge of 42 degrees.

Two persons were killed near Ardmore, Ala., on the Tennessee line, when they stepped out of their car after it became entangled in power lines felled by wind and snow.

Western Tennessee was hard hit, first by freezing rain and then by snow, making many highways impassable and closing several schools. Two inches of snow fell in Memphis and stayed on the ground with near-zero temperatures as the city has no snow removal equipment. Brisk winds piled up drifts of four and five feet. Police cars were used only for emergency calls because of the rash of traffic accidents, including 60 in a one-hour period.

A snowstorm followed rain and freezing rain in western Kentucky, with amounts of 2 to 4 inches, the heaviest of the season. Schools in at least 13 counties were closed.

McDonald-Abel Fight Eyed

U.S. May Order New USW Voting

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Informed labor sources predicted today there was a good chance that the government will order a new election in the fight for the presidency of the United Steel Workers Union.

The Labor Department is watching the tabulation of votes in the contest between President David J. McDonald and the union's secretary-treasurer, I. W. Abel.

Highly placed labor sources, here for the AFL-CIO Executive Council meeting, said if the final outcome is within a few thousand votes, the Landrum-Griffin Act is likely to be invoked to order a new election.

The Labor Department has ordered numerous new votes in contested local union elections but such an order in the million-member steelworkers union would be the first involving a major international union.

The sources based their prediction on past Labor Department policy in contested union elections.

Government officials are anxious to get the steelworkers election settled before a possible strike crisis builds up in the industry, which could send economic shock waves through the entire economy.

AFL-CIO President George Meany has urged the steelworkers to extend the contracts, due to expire May 1, to make up for time lost in the election battle.

Steel contract negotiations have been suspended for several months pending the outcome of the election.

Now, with the threat of court action and the possibility of government intervention, many sources feel a steel crisis looms even larger.

Sources close to the steelworkers said if the government finds enough evidence to support vote challenges, McDonald and Abel would probably agree to a new election supervised by the Labor Department.

The vote tabulation has been under way in Pittsburgh since Monday.

Funeral Is Pending

William Louthan Dies; Former Plant President

William B. Louthan, 83, of Park Blvd., past president of the former Louthan Manufacturing Co., died Wednesday at 4 p. m. at Eustis, Fla., following a two-week illness. He and his wife, Mrs. Edna S. Louthan, had established a residence at Mt. Dora for the winter months.

Mr. Louthan was born here to Bradford N. Louthan and Florence N. Brunt Louthan. He served as president of the company for 47 years.

The Louthan firm was founded in 1901 by his father when he became a partner. The original plant was on Jefferson St. The firm bought the East End plant about 1913, abandoning the downtown facility and concentrating operations in East End.

Louthan's was sold to the Harbison-Walker Refractories

Khanh Gets Full Honors On Leaving

Departs For U.S.; Turns Command Over To Gen. Minh

BULLETIN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force jets bearing secret antipersonnel weapons blasted Viet Cong ambush positions north and east of Saigon today.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The officers who overthrew Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh sent him off to the United States today with full honors. Several embraced him with tears in their eyes.

At the last moment, U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor, with whom Khanh had often crossed swords, went to the airport with Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam.

Several hours earlier, Khanh formally turned over command of the Vietnamese armed forces to Maj. Gen. Tran Van (Little) Minh in a brief ceremony at the general staff headquarters near Saigon Airport.

Minh has been named only "temporary acting commander," and the real struggle for Khanh's job is just beginning. Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, the Air Force commander and one of those who voted against Khanh last Saturday, said the Armed Forces Council would meet later today to select a new chairman "and see what we will do from here on."

The Armed Forces Council put down a coup Friday against Khanh, then turned against the strongman and ended his 12½ months in power.

"Now each Vietnamese commander must work to maintain the loyalty of his unit and then must work with the other commanders," Ky said.

He said he felt things would go better now but conceded that the general staff needed a strong over-all leader.

Before leaving, Khanh reviewed a detachment of soldiers and received the nation's highest military award from Premier Phan Huy Quat.

"For 19 years," said Khanh, "I have served in the army in every position, always shoulder to shoulder with my troops. Last year I was leader of the nation but my heart was always with the lowest ranks."

"I hope in the stormy period ahead the nation will knit its forces together."

Khanh flew to Hong Kong where he, his wife, four children and his mother-in-law planned to spend a week. Khanh planned another stop in Paris en route to New York.

Khanh has been named an ambassador-at-large with his first mission to present to the United Nations evidence of Communist North Viet Nam's assistance to the Viet Cong.

South Viet Nam, like North Viet Nam, has no seat in the U.N. but it maintains an observer there.

Salem Police Seek 2 In Loan Firm Holdup

SALEM — Police continued today to seek two calm and deliberate gunmen who obtained an estimated $400 in a holdup at the GAC Finance Co. offices in the downtown area Wednesday.

The pair, without masks or hats, were in their early 20's, witnesses said.

One man walked in and stood at a teller's cage while the other produced a gun and demanded money. Police said they then apparently walked to a car parked more than a block away and drove off.

RIGHTS LEADER PROTECTED. Rev. Martin Luther King (center with overcoat) had plenty of police protection when he arrived Wednesday at International Airport in Los Angeles for a series of public appearances. At an airport press conference King rededicated himself to non-violence in the civil rights movements even to the point where he said there should be no retaliation if he himself were killed. ## Say They Know Who Was Responsible

Police Hint Break To Come Soon In Assassination Of Malcolm X

NEW YORK (AP) — Police say they know who was responsible for Malcolm X's assassination and hint a break in the investigation will come soon, perhaps today.

Despite phony bomb threats in Harlem, more than 7,000 persons have filed by the bier of the slain Black nationalist leader in less than two days.

Malcolm X, 39, who broke with the Black Muslims 14 months ago and formed a rival sect, was shot down as he started to speak at a Manhattan rally Sunday. Police believe five persons were involved. One man is in custody. He is Talmadge Hayer, 22, a Negro from Paterson, N.J., charged with homicide.

In Chicago, a heavy patrol of police and his own bodyguards protected the 19-room home of Elijah Muhammad, head of the Black Muslims, who Friday open a three-day convention.

Chicago police checked reports that followers of Malcolm X were in that city to avenge his death. Muhammad has denied that Black Muslims were involved in the slaying.

In New York, Asst. Chief Inspector Joseph L. Coyle, in command of 50 detectives working on the case, said Wednesday that police were on the "right track" toward solving the slaying.

He said this was because of "information detectives have dug up as to who may be responsible." He did not elaborate.

Bayard Rustin, one of the Negro civil rights leaders who organized the 1963 march on Washington, Wednesday visited the funeral home where Malcolm's body is on public display.

With tears in his eyes he told newsmen: "He had a tremendous impact on the Negro community. He caused many young Negroes to take a new vision of themselves."

James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality who has urged President Johnson to launch a federal investigation of Malcolm's slaying, reiterated his belief the Black Muslims were not involved in the shooting.

45-Man Police Detail To Guard Muhammad

CHICAGO (AP) — "Muhammad will have as much security as if he were President Johnson," says the head of Chicago's police task force, charged with guarding the Black Muslim leader from any who would avenge Malcolm X.

Commander Robert Lynskey, leader of the task force, said a 45-man police detail will be assigned to Elijah Muhammad, the Muslims' "messenger of Allah." There'll be plenty of reinforcements close at hand, Lynskey added.

Policemen and Muslim bodyguards guarded the 19-room home of Muhammad today on the eve of the Black Muslims' annual convention opening Friday in the Coliseum.

The police intelligence unit checked out reports that followers of Malcolm X might be in Chicago. All cars with New York license plates are stopped for questioning.

City Requests New Trial On $30,000 Case

The City of East Liverpool Wednesday afternoon filed a motion for a new trial in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon on the $30,000 verdict which a jury awarded Feb. 11 to Mrs. Callie Knight, 64, of 915 Lisbon St., as a result of injuries she allegedly suffered in a fall on municipally-maintained wooden steps in West End.

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper filed another motion for a directed verdict in behalf of the city, contending that "this defendant is entitled by law to such judgment."

No date has been set for hearings on the motions. If they are overruled, the city already has indicated it will take the case to the 7th District Court of Appeals.

A jury of 10 women and two men returned the finding for the laundry worker after a four-day trial before Judge Ray.

City To Be Host Friday 465 Pupils To Take Part In County Music Festival

About 465 vocal and instrumental department students from 11 high schools will participate in the Columbiana County Music Festival Friday night at 8 at the Memorial Auditorium.

Final rehearsals for the annual event will be conducted tonight from 7 to 10 at the MA, and tomorrow afternoon from 1 to 5.

The rehearsals will be under the direction of the guest conductors, Edward T. Harn of Bloomington, Ill., band director, and Daniel P. Tkach of Franklin Park, Ill., choir director.

The participating schools include East Liverpool, Beaver Local, Wellsville, Salem, Columbiana, East Palestine, Southern Local, United Local, Leetonia, Lisbon and Crestview.

Tickets, which are 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students, may be obtained from any choir or band member, and at the door.

Hosts will be Vincent L. Maola, instrumental director, and Robert L. Shankovich, choir director, of East Liverpool High School.

A committee of members of the ELHS Band and Orchestra Mothers and the Choir Parents will be in charge of feeding the students tomorrow.

The students from out-of-town who participate in the rehearsal tomorrow afternoon will be served dinner at the Masonic Temple, and the pupils residing in this area will go home for dinner.

A catering service from Isaly's, under the direction of Harold Bricker, will furnish the dinner, assisted by mothers of the pupils.

Trio Injured In Crash On Super Road

Three Wellsville men were injured slightly when their car overturned on the East Liverpool - Wellsville super road this morning about 2:30, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Willis Murray Jr., 22, of 321 10th St., the driver, told officers he was headed southwest and had to swerve to avoid a stone in the road about a mile from the East Liverpool city limits.

The 1963 sedan went off the right side of the highway, hit an embankment and overturned once, landing on its wheels.

Murray suffered possible back injuries. Walter Cross, 20, of 1719 Lincoln Ave. received abrasions of the right knee and rib injuries, and Edward Householder, 25, of 431 14th St. suffered bruises of the leg. They were treated at City Hospital.

U.N. Chief Maps Plans For Parley

No Proposals Made To U.S., Johnson's Press Aide States

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says it is not engaged in any negotiations for a Viet Nam settlement and that no one has been authorized to negotiate in behalf of the United States.

George E. Reedy, presidential press secretary, made these points Wednesday after U.N. Secretary-General U Thant said in New York that he had made concrete proposals aimed at a negotiated settlement of the Vietnamese war. France and the Soviet Union are also seeking such an agreement.

But Reedy said: "I know of no specific proposal for negotiation that has been made to this government."

President Johnson is known to feel that, at this stage, there is no evidence that the Chinese and North Vietnamese Communists are interested in serious talks on Viet Nam. Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai said Wednesday that complete, immediate and unconditional U.S. withdrawal is Peking's price for negotiations.

U.S. officials give two conditions for any talks on Viet Nam: An end to attacks by the Communist Viet Cong and a cessation of subversion, infiltration and supply of the guerrillas from outside South Viet Nam. And Reedy noted: "This matter would be terminated very quickly if aggressors would cease their aggressions."

The U.S. position appeared to be that, in the absence of real hopes for negotiations now, the anti-Communist position should be strengthened as much as possible with an eye toward talks sometime in the future.

This was underscored by the news from South Viet Nam that American-manned jet bombers had taken part in several raids on Viet Cong positions in the key central region of South Viet Nam.

This broadening of the U.S. role, in a land where some 24,000 American personnel are functioning officially as "advisers" to South Vietnamese forces, was described by the State Department as "in accordance with the government's stated policy of continuous action that is appropriate, fitting and measured."

As for economic aid, Washington authorities said the Saigon government must take the offensive if American economic support is to serve a useful purpose.

One aid official said some South Vietnamese village leaders — under threat of death from Communist guerrilla leaders — have been forced to share their U.S. aid with the Viet Cong. He cited an example of the Viet Cong leaving a receipt for goods seized from a village chieftain so he could account to aid authorities and not be accused of corruption.

Dividends Declared By Board Of Crucible

The Board of Directors of the Crucible Steel Co. of America has declared a quarterly dividend of 30 cents per share on common stock.

A quarterly dividend of $1.3125 per share was also declared on the 5¼ percent convertible preferred stock. Both are payable March 31 to shareholders of record March 12.

Kickoff Held By Red Cross

LISBON — Chairmen and volunteer workers from the 12 townships comprising the northern Columbiana County Red Cross Chapter attended the fund raising "kickoff" dinner Tuesday night at the Methodist Church. Some 120 attended.

Township workers will seek $12,500 during the campaign Monday through March 31.

Thomas Cusack, general chairman, presided and introduced several guest speakers. Louis Raymond, First vice president, spoke on the area Blood Bank program and answered questions on the collection and distribution of blood in the chapter area.

A film, "Symbol of Humanity," giving a history of the Red Cross movement, highlighted the program. Atty. George H. Bowman, immediate past chairman, welcomed the volunteer workers.

The Rev. Fred Shiltz, pastor of the host church, gave the invocation and benediction.

Bud Wilkinson, former Oklahoma football coach, heads the new Lifetime Sports Foundation.

Bowling Firm Burglars Get $300 In Cash

Approximately $300 in cash was stolen by thieves who broke into Terrace Lanes on Route 30 near Chester early Wednesday.

Hancock County deputies and State Police said about $162 was taken from a cash drawer, $75 from a filing cabinet and $90 from six coin-operated machines and a juke box with six counter coin receptacles.

Pried open and looted were two candy, two cigarette, a ball cleaning and soft drink machines, authorities said.

The thieves also took an electric iron and hair dryer which were offered as bowling prizes.

Arthur Lewis, manager, reported the burglary at 8 a. m. He told deputies it occurred between 2 and 6:15 a. m. and was discovered by employees reporting to clean the establishment.

The thieves gained entrance by breaking a lock on double glass doors on the west side of the building.

Group Meets At Salineville

Twelve attended a meeting of the Altar and Rosary Society of St. Patrick's Catholic Church at Salineville Tuesday night at the rectory.

Plans were furthered for the annual St. Patrick's Day card party. Appointed a committee for the event were Mrs. Anna Mae Jakubowski, Mrs. Kate Weaver, Mrs. Millie Maher and Mrs. Carmela Cozzoli.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Janet Eish and Mrs. Violet Flynn. Mrs. Emma Eish, president, was in charge. The next meeting will be held March 30.

Mrs. John Ewing of Lisbon R. D. 1 visited here Tuesday. Robert Hadley and Norman Roshell of Lorain spent the weekend with Jerry Strabley.

Senior Citizens, Council To Hear Data On Housing

Mayor Merrill D. Hall said today he is arranging a meeting of a committee representing the Senior Citizens' Group with Council Tuesday night at 7:30 to hear a report from Paul Durbak, director of the Steubenville Metropolitan Housing Authority, on low-cost housing for the elderly.

The mayor said President George E. Willshaw is to advise other members of Council of the discussion.

Durbak will explain steps which Steubenville followed to set up its housing program with federal aid.

Some of the Steubenville units are designed especially for the elderly and incorporate conveniences and safety features not found in ordinary housing. For instance, doors are designed to permit passage of wheel chairs and other perambulator devices.

The Senior Citizens unit is slated to send a seven-member committee to the meeting.

An Issue For Ohio's Voters

It is easy to understand why Ohio General Assembly leaders are skittish about putting the red-hot school bus issue on the November ballot, as proposed by Stark County Reps. MacKenzie and Regula.

They do not want to be accused of backing away from their responsibilities. Neither do they want to diminish legislative prestige by going to the people with an issue that could be settled by the legislature.

But it is equally easy to understand why Reps. MacKenzie and Regula have made their proposal and why it will be welcomed by many members of the General Assembly.

A POPULAR VOTE would take care of three problems with one solution.

1. It would eliminate all doubt about the constitutionality of letting parochial students use public school buses. If Ohio voters amended the state constitution to make this permissible, there would be no constitutional question.

2. It would rescue legislators from a dilemma in which they have no hope of coming out on top but much fear of being buried.

3. It would settle the question statewide. In support of their resolution, the Stark County representatives point out that this issue is of lively concern to so many Ohioans that it is a proper matter for a statewide decision.

Certainly it is different from legislative matters of no direct concern to the general public, or the technical issues that even legislatures must decide on the recommendation of experts and special committees.

Everybody has an opinion on this issue. OHIO'S constitution is plain.

"The legislative power of the state shall be vested in a general assembly consisting of a senate and house of representatives," it says, then adds in the same sentence, "but the people reserve to themselves the power to propose to the general assembly laws and amendments to the constitution, and to adopt or reject the same at the polls on a referendum vote as hereinafter provided."

There is nothing irregular, nothing exceptional about letting Ohio voters go to the mat with issues like this one.

More Lots Loom

As the result of Tuesday night's discussion between City Council and a delegation of the East Liverpool Merchants Association, it seems clear that more metered off-street parking lots are in the making. It appears to be just a question of time.

The merchants understandably feel the sooner the better. They consider additional parking vital to their efforts to provide constantly-improving and constantly-expanding shopping facilities. And rightfully so.

The legislators in turn, while intimating that more lots are in the offing, want a closer look at the costs of available sites before making any final decision. They can't be criticized for this.

With another meeting set next month, the air should be cleared even more toward such final action.

All that can be asked is that once all the available facts are assembled there be no unnecessary delay in providing more parking lots, assuming the facts make them financially feasible.

In view of the success being enjoyed by the lots already in operation, it is difficult to conceive that the facts will add up to any other conclusion.

Finally, All Anger Was Spent

Felix Frankfurter has died quietly, in the obscurity of retirement. It is difficult to remember now why he was the most controversial personality of the New Deal, next to Franklin D. Roosevelt.

He became the symbol of new thought in the federal government. In the melee of the New Deal years, Associate Justice Frankfurter of the U.S. Supreme Court, the "happy hot dogs" he had sent to Washington from his law school post at Harvard and the bloodless but venom-filled revolution of the '30s were blended into a potion of ideological hatred.

We can believe now, years later, that most of the controversy rolled off Felix Frankfurter's back. He, himself, was to move forward through the maelstrom of new ideas a little later as a defender of traditionalism. It was a curious turn of events for one who previously had been accused of trying to overthrow America's institutions.

Finally, all anger was spent. The New Deal had grown old. The "happy hot dogs" had their few years of ascendancy, then went over the horizon, out of sight and out of mind.

When Justice Frankfurter reached the end, upward of three years after his retirement from the Supreme Court in the summer of 1962, many Americans had to be told why he was the court's most maligned member at one time and before that the most trusted intellectual in the United States.

He suffered the fate of all whose mission in life is the introduction of thoughts that are hateful because they are new.

Good Work!

Speedy and effective police work in the cracking of a series of burglaries has brought comment favorable to both the East Liverpool and Wellsville departments.

It's a pleasure to pass it along. Unfavorable comment has a way of making the rounds without too much trouble, but pats on the back don't come too easily or too often.

Efficient police work serves to reassure a community that its safety is being protected to the best ability of those entrusted with its care.

The handling of the burglary cases was a positive example of such efficiency.

A reminder is in order also as to the part that bystanders can play in the apprehension of criminals.

The alertness of an unidentified woman led to the capture of two suspects in one of the burglaries.

As East Liverpool Police Chief Radeschi commented at the time, in praising the caller, "If more citizens will cooperate with police, there will be more apprehensions."

Place Your Bets Now

A statement by the deputy mayor of West Berlin, Henrich Albertz, that East Germany hopes to make the Berlin Wall impregnable by 1970 has staggering implications.

Most staggering is the implication that East Germany has no hope of German reconciliation—ever. Fewer people are hoping for reunification than hoped for it a few years ago. But many West Germans and East Germans had hoped for reconciliation that would enable both sides one day to level that wall that has divided them since August 1961.

Eventually, of course, the wall will be of no avail. Tourists will look at its ruins, as they look at the ruins of Hadrian's Wall in Britain, which was to have separated a country into two parts.

The will of man is infinitely stronger than any wall. The positivism of human nature is vastly more dynamic than the stubborn negativism of the disenchanted authoritarians who had to close the border to imprison the East Germans.

East Germany is aiming for an impregnable wall by 1970. Place your bets now

Purely Personal

I never have been sure that Charles Chaplin, W. C. Fields and Laurel and Hardy were as funny as I once thought they were. But on second thought, it doesn't matter. They were screamingly funny then, especially Stan Laurel, who has died at 74 after a twilight of illness and despondency.

I am in the midst of a midwinter reading binge, rediscovering how much more rewarding it is to read than watch shadows on a gawk-box. The gawk box is restricted to mediocrity by the forces which make it possible, but a good book can be as good as its author can make it.

It is ridiculous to suppose more money will broaden educational opportunities for the young. Money is a minor element.

By Truman Twill

The major element is to untie the hands of educators already on the job and attract more educated people to teaching by showing more respect for the teaching profession.

Every man is entitled to his own shuddery thoughts these days. My special shudder at the moment is the possibility the Central Intelligence Agency may be goofing up the job in South Viet Nam the way it goofed up its job in Cuba... assuming the CIA is still being given a free rein.

Hasn't everyone else noticed, too, that those mammoth trucks on the highways are always named for women but that when women give pet names to their little passenger cars they always name them "George," "Henry" etc.?

Viet Situation Reminds Of Munich

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The test of America's courage is at hand. Who speaks for the United States today—the "isolationists" who want to pull out of Viet Nam or the advocates of a firm policy even if it involves further American commitments in Southeast Asia?

Those who want to draw David Lawrence back and get the United States to concentrate on domestic affairs do not feel that the label "isolationist" fits them, but neither do those who have a firm policy care to be called "war hawks."

The situation today is not unlike that which preceded Munich in 1938. The world then accepted the appeasement policy of Prime Minister Chamberlain of Great Britain but a year later Hitler started World War II because he thought the British were cowards and wouldn't fight.

SEN. THOMAS J. DODD, D-Conn., has just made in the Senate a lengthy speech which points out the dangers of the talk of withdrawal from Viet Nam and especially of the proposals that peace negotiations be begun at this time—a step which could be construed as a sign of fear and weakness.

"The situation in Viet Nam today," said Sen. Dodd, "bears many resemblances to the situation just before Munich. Chamberlain wanted peace. Churchill said that if the free world failed to draw the line against Hitler at an early stage, it would be compelled to draw the line under much more difficult circumstances at a later date."

"Chamberlain held that a confrontation with Hitler might result in war, and that the interests of peace demanded some concessions to Hitler. Czechoslovakia, he said, was a faraway land about which we knew very little. Chamberlain held that a durable agreement would be negotiated with Hitler that would guarantee "peace in our time."

"Churchill held that the appeasement of a compulsive aggressor simply whetted his appetite for further expansion and made war more likely. Chamberlain's policy won out, because nobody wanted war."

"Churchill remained a voice crying in the wilderness. But who was right—Churchill or Chamberlain? Who was the true man of peace?"

The Connecticut senator pointed out there is developing in this country what he calls "the new isolationism," whose "scareword is 'escalation'" and whose "cure-all is 'neutrality'."

MANY SENATORS have been participating in the debate about Viet Nam, and Sen. Dodd is fearful that the Communists may get the wrong impression of what is being said on the floor of the Senate as indicating a weakness and a tendency on the part of the United States to run away from its responsibilities. He said:

"I disagree strongly with my colleagues who have spoken up to urge negotiations. But if there is any way in which my voice could reach to Peking and to Moscow, I would warn the Communist leaders that they should not construe the debate that is now taking place in this chamber as a sign of weakness. It is, on the contrary, a testimony to our strength."

Despite all the talk about steps that might "escalate" the war, the fact is that Russia and China have been escalating the war in the last several weeks, and the premier of the Soviet Union went to North Viet Nam to pledge more military aid.

If, in the face of such activities on the part of the Communists, the United States appears today to be scared and timid and ready to negotiate peace at any price, the net result could be a major war far beyond the borders of Viet Nam.

THE COMMUNISTS always are ready to follow up any sign of weakness on the Western side. They are convinced that the United States will not use nuclear weapons, so it's a big land operation which the Russians and the Red Chinese visualize as a possibility and which they have been threatening. They see victory through such an operation in Viet Nam itself. They cannot, however, assume that the United States would be content to use just ground forces in Southeast Asia if a war did come. It's the prospect of major operations along the coast of Red China with air and naval expeditions from Formosa, Okinawa, the Philippines, and possibly Australia which may give pause to the Russians and the Chinese.

But nobody in official circles really believes that there will be any big war. The biggest danger might come if America left Southeast Asia to be overrun by the Communists—a development which could also frighten the "captive" countries of the eastern bloc in Europe and discourage West Germany about its chances of ever attaining a reunification with East Germany.

It's the possibility of a chain reaction from a virtual surrender which is causing apprehension now. That's why there is so much dismay over the outspoken comments in favor of isolationism which make it appear that the demand for negotiations at this time is based on weakness, instead of strength.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO—John G. Bennett, son of E. R. Bennett, 204 W. 5th St., was a member of the 55-piece Alliance Symphony orchestra which presented a concert at Mt. Union College.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Alvin H. Hall of Dixonville was promoted to sergeant at the Cherry Point, (N.C.) Marine Corps Air Station.

The second anniversary of the dedication of the new church was observed by the congregation of the LaCroft Church of the Nazarene, with the Rev. Paul H. Darulla in charge.

TEN YEARS AGO—Midland Council approved legislation setting the tax rate for 1955 at 15 mills, the same as 1954.

The Chester Lions Club was lauded for civic service by the District 29-A governor, Carl Bender of Weirton, during the annual Charter Night banquet at the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. J. Hilary Johnston was elected president of the Federated Missionary Society of Chester churches at the annual World Day of Prayer service. Mrs. Ralph Hobbs was named vice president.

Hoffa Endeavors To Outpace Reuther

By VICTOR RIESEL

An irritated Jimmy Hoffa, irked by the efforts of his fellow Detroiters, Walter Reuther, to build the nation's largest union, is trying to outrace him as America's most militant labor leader.

Shouting "the honeymoon is over," the truculent Teamsters' chief has declared political war on Congress; urged that it be deluged with one million letters; demanded a four-day work week of 32 hours; and called for an intense white collar drive by his union's 5,000 officials.

Mr. Hoffa even has approved contributions to a fund for the restoration of the home of the late legendary Socialist leader, Eugene Victor Debs. The house in Terre Haute, Ind., is being turned into a Socialist Shrine.

EDITORIALS under his signature in the Teamsters' union magazine constantly bristle with class slogans.

As he whirls leftward, he has become the positive darling of such hypermilitant politicalized unions as Harry Bridges West Coast Longshoremen. They call him their martyr. They run regular civil liberties rallies in his defense.

He is in regular communication with these unionists and there is persistent talk of launching a new labor federation of more than two million workers to challenge the AFL-CIO.

Let no one think this could not happen shortly. Hoffa constantly is testing the strength of the older federation with a series of raids on AFL-CIO jurisdiction.

Characteristic of his neomilitancy is an editorial in the most recent edition of the "Teamster." Despite reports of lowering joblessness, the editorial said: "The chronically unemployed are still standing idle in the shadow of the 40-hour work week..." The answer, he adds, is a "four-day work-week amounting to 32 hours of toil."

TO SHOW how far Mr. Hoffa has moved from his conservative position, one observer recalls that in June, 1963, the Teamsters' president described the 13-week vacation plan in the steel industry as "stupid."

This was a week after the major steel corporations had agreed to 13 weeks of paid vacation every five years for employees with the longest service records.

"They talk about creating 20,000 to 25,000 jobs in the steel industry because of the long vacation," Hoffa sneered at that time. "Want to know what those guys will do on a 13-week vacation? They'll take part-time jobs. They'll create more unemployment."

Today, Mr. Hoffa seriously contemplates a fight for the four-day work week for the 1.75 million teamsters. If he won such contracts for even half that number on over-the-road runs and in intra-city carting, he would affect the entire economy of the nation. But his aggressive friends are urging this upon him.

THESE MILITANTS cheer him when he scoffs at the rest of the union movement—as he did the other day in his nationally distributed magazine.

"For too long, timidity has marked the legislative approach of the leaders of organized labor," he said of the men now meeting in the mid-winter session of the AFL-CIO Executive Council in Bal Harbour, Fla.,

"And apathy has marked the attitude of the rank and file of labor."

"I urge each and every one of our officers and members to legislative fact. I urge each and every one of you to write your congressmen and senators, to the chairmen of the House and Senate labor committees, demanding that they act and act now..."

ALL THIS worries some observers who have been disturbed by scores of recent rank and file revolts against the traditional labor leaders. Observers interpret Mr. Hoffa's words as far more than rousing rhetoric.

They see it stirring rank and file demands for an ever shortening work week and work year. These observers also see the failure of labor leaders to deliver such shorter work weeks resulting in strike action across the land. Thousands of pacts, covering millions of workers expire this year.

Mr. Hoffa's vigorous militancy could be costly to the economy.

The Unhappy Side

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON
The unhappy side of the presidency finally caught up with Lyndon B. Johnson, coping with the predictable, in his first 14 months in the White House.

There had been some annoyances abroad but most of his time, talent, and tenacity were concentrated on problems at home, like winning an election, getting a civil rights bill passed, pushing through a tax cut.

This was where he was an expert, after his long years in Washington. He had an acute sensitivity to politicians, understood the machinery of government, knew when to shift gears, throw switches, and turn the heat on.

Time was extraordinarily kind in allowing him so long a stretch in which to deal with what he knew best. No president since Franklin D. Roosevelt had such little critical trouble overseas in his first 14 months.

It couldn't last, and it didn't. Trouble finally piled up on him when the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam attacked U.S. bases and shocked Americans into a vivid realization of what they were up against.

Anyone paying attention to the news these past two years knew the American-backed war against the Communists was going to pot and that the guerrillas were taking over more and more of a country the United States was helping defend.

All this news was spread over many months and no single episode, until U.S. bases were hit in South Viet Nam, illustrated so well the developing disaster.

The whole wretched condition of the war became clear with the attacks and Johnson's retaliation by ordering the bombing of some North Vietnamese bases. Johnson was repeatedly urged to talk to the nation about it. He didn't.

It isn't difficult to understand why he is reluctant to talk to the world directly on all this.

It might limit his freedom of maneuver in dealing with the Communists, now or later, and he may have reason, not clear now to outsiders, for thinking that just watchful waiting by itself is good medicine.

But Wednesday, U Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations, suggested the United States pull out of Viet Nam although he acknowledged, for American face-saving reasons, this could be done only after some kind of settlement.

And then he threw in a strange statement: "I am sure that the great American people, if only they know the true facts will agree with me that further bloodshed is unnecessary."

What facts don't the American people know? He didn't say. Nor did he say anyone was withholding facts from them.

If the United States did try to pull out suddenly—Johnson has no such thought, judging from the stories coming out of Washington—it would be an admitted defeat, costing the United States influence in Asia and elsewhere.

Nor, according to such stories, does Johnson think this is the time to talk negotiations with the Communists.

But Viet Nam, where American lives have been lost and billions of dollars spent if not wasted, is becoming topsy-turvy, with the generals competing for power among themselves and one government after another being overturned.

If this goes on much longer, Johnson will have a hard time convincing Americans this country should stay in Viet Nam to fight a war the Vietnamese are not fighting.

This is his first major foreign affairs dilemma. He knows more about it than the rest of the country. Therefore, and since there has been no climax and no solution, neither his caution nor his silence should be criticized.

Sooner or later there will be the climax and how Johnson emerges from it will affect his leadership here and abroad. It's no wonder he's watching his step.

Deaths and Funerals

Death Claims Widow At 88

Mrs. Ada Culley Brooks, 88, widow of William J. Brooks, died Wednesday about 3:10 p.m. at Aliquippa Hospital, after an illness of three months.

Mrs. Brooks resided in Hookstown for many years but for the last three months had lived with a niece, Mrs. Ruth Shane, of Aliquippa.

She was born July 17, 1876, in Washington County, Pa., to Jesse Culley and Ella Culley. She was a member of the Hookstown United Presbyterian Church. Her husband died in 1931.

She is survived by a son, Harry Brooks of San Clemente, Calif.; three daughters, Mrs. Bessie McGee of Cleveland, Mrs. James (Marjorie) Clapper of Clearwater, Fla., and Mrs. Richard (Frances) Baughman of Beaver; a brother, David E. Culley of East Lansing, Mich.; two sisters, Mrs. Beulah Dawson of Pittsburgh and Mrs. Audrey Ferguson in Michigan, and four grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Welch Funeral Home in Hookstown by the Rev. Alex C. Wilson. Burial will be in Mill Creek Hill Cemetery, Hookstown.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 tonight and Friday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Adda Jones

Mrs. Adda Jones, 92, of Detroit, widow of John Jones, and a native of East Liverpool, died Wednesday morning at home, after a long illness.

She was born May 7, 1872, to Mr. and Mrs. David Brockett, and left here about 1930.

She leaves two sons, Vivyan Jones and Eugene Jones, both of Detroit, and two grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Services and burial will be held Saturday in Detroit.

Mrs. Julia Whitney

Mrs. Julia Whitney, 2126 Ohio Ave., died at 10:45 a. m. today at City Hospital, following a six-month illness. She was 83, and had been a resident of the area about 50 years. She was born in Monroe County.

She leaves five daughters, Mrs. Wilma Tice, Mrs. Juanita Brewer, Mrs. Bessie Call, Mrs. Naomi Call and Mrs. Ida Heron, all of East Liverpool; two brothers, John Gotchell of Barnesville and William Gotchell of Amsterville; a sister, Mrs. Alma Maoney of East Liverpool, and 18 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren. The Martin Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Fred Davis

LISBON — Services for Fred C. Davis, 870 N. Market St., who died Tuesday night at Ft. Myers, Fla., of injuries received in an auto accident, will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the Henry Funeral Home.

The Rev. Paul T. Gerrard of the First Presbyterian Church will officiate and burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Mr. Davis, 91, had resided in Lisbon for many years. The last several years, he lived in Florida during the winter. He was associated many years with the Excelsior Fire Clay Co. and formerly operated the Lisbon Newsstand and Wall Paper Store in the Masonic Building. Friends may call at the funeral home today from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

mond S. Buzzard. Mrs. Knight alleged her right leg was broken when a step and a hand railing gave way on stairs extending up a hillside from W. 9th St.

Cooper cited four reasons under which he said the court should grant a new trial. He termed the damages "excessive" and said the amount seemed to have been arrived at "under the influence of passion or prejudice." He also contended the verdict was not sustained by sufficient evidence and was contrary to law.

He cited "several errors of law occurring in the trial and to which exceptions were taken by the defendant at that time and for other errors manifest on the face of the record."

In the request for the directed verdict, he said: "Defendant respectfully moves the court for judgment in its favor herein upon the evidence at the trial, notwithstanding the verdict of the jury, as this defendant is entitled by law to such judgment."

In her original action, Mrs. Knight cited expenses of $1,000 in connection with the injury. She listed $400 in hospital expenses, $300 for a physician's services and $300 for lost wages. The testimony showed she has returned to her job following recuperation and has worked steadily.

Dresden Mishap Damages 2 Cars

Two cars were damaged in a collision Wednesday at 11:21 p. m. on Dresden Ave. at W. 7th St., officers reported.

The mishap involved a 1958 model car driven by Curtis A. Palmer, 27, of 632 Inez Ave. and a 1963 sedan operated by Danny S. Galloway, 19, of 527 1st Ave., police said.

Palmer told police he started to pull from W. 7th St. to Dresden Ave. and did not see the Galloway car until too late to stop. Galloway said Palmer pulled into his path and he was unable to stop in time to avoid a collision.

There was damage to the left front fender and grill of Palmer's car and the hood and grill of the Galloway auto were dented, police said.

Tomlinson Run Park Field Trip Set Sunday

The Hancock County Nature Committee's first activity of the season will be a field trip to Tomlinson Run State Park Sunday afternoon at 2. The public is invited.

The meeting place will be at the lower park entrance by the bridge on the Washington School Rd. Identification of trees by bark and silhouette will be practiced as well as identifying the birds that are winter residents.

The next nature activity will be a lecture, "The Four Seasons," by Albert Tenney of the Forest Audubon Club of Steubenville. The color slide introduction to nature and conservation will be presented at the Courthouse Annex March 4 at 7:30 p.m.

Telephone Firm Shows Device At Educators Event

A new device called a telelecturer was demonstrated by representatives of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. Wednesday night for the County Rural School Administrators Discussion Groups.

Twenty attended the program at Southern Local High School following dinner at Meade's Restaurant, near Wellsville.

The group talked to Principal Thomas Leek of Southern Local via the tele-lecturer. Leek was at Steubenville. The firm said the device is available to school systems at a cost of $35 monthly plus installation charges. The group was to have talked with a congressman in Washington, but he proved to be unavailable.

The next meeting will be April 28. The time and place will be announced.

Condition Of Injured Autoist 'Fairly Good'

Howard Lisk of Lisbon R.D. 2, Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles inspector hurt in a Salem auto collision Tuesday, was in "fairly good" condition today at Salem City Hospital.

Lisk, 58, former city resident, suffered a fractured collarbone and ribs when his car was struck from the side by a pickup truck driven by Charles Simonds, 57, of Leontonia.

Simonds was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way by Salem police and was fined $10 and costs Wednesday by Mayor Dean Cranmer of Salem.

Firemen To Sponsor Highlandtown Sale

Plans were made to hold an auction sale April 10 when the Highlandtown volunteer firemen met Wednesday night at the station.

Five more pairs of boots were delivered, bringing the total to 15.

John Baker, president, conducted business. Ten attended.

Fair Board Will Ask Bids

LISBON — The Fair Board of the Columbiana County Agricultural Society Wednesday night agreed to seek bids for printed material for the 120th annual County Fair to be held Aug. 25-29.

Bids for 800 premium books and 5,000 programs will be taken at the meeting March 24 in the County Extension Service offices.

The board also decided to hold the horse-pulling contest Friday morning of the fair beginning at 9.

Members are also trying to line up a special program for Wednesday night, since the 4-H Clubs decided not to give the regular program they have held for the last several years.

Only six members of the board attended the meeting.

Democrat Committee To Enroll Candidates

The Democratic Committee of Hanover Township, Beaver County, will meet tonight at 8 at the Township Building on Route 18 to make plans for the primary May 14.

Dale Lance, committee member, said all registered Democrats interested in running for township offices are invited.

Local offices to be voted upon include a supervisor, tax collector, justice of the peace, auditor and assessor.

Election judge and inspector of elections for both the East District and the West District will also be elected.

Chevy II 100 Station Wagon

Chevy II 100 2-Door Sedan

Chevy II

With aluminized exhausts that discourage corrosion... Delco-tron generators that encourage longer battery life... brakes that adjust themselves... rocker panels that flush themselves free of dirt and salt. Tight? They're downright miserly!

You're looking at the lowest priced sedan and station wagon that Chevrolet makes.

We make a point of this since they neither look nor act their price.

They're roomy. The sedan seats six. The wagon gives you a full nine feet from the back of the front seat to the tip of the lowered tailgate.

They're rugged. The unitized body is by Fisher. Up front, there's an independent suspension system and in the rear, Mono-Plate (you'll never hear a squeak) springs.

They're good looking. Clean. Functional. Foam-cushioned front seats, padded front armrests and color-keyed front seat belts are among many unexpected standard equipment features.

You can get an economical 4-cylinder engine in the sedan or in both cars, a 120-hp Hi-Thrift Six. It's fast to warm up, idles almost silently and is very, very easy on gas.

For even more power, there's a special Six you can order: the 230-cubic-inch Turbo-Thrift job.

As we said earlier, these are our lowest priced cars. But you'll never know just how economical they are until you own one.

Signup For Hancock

Grain Plan Continues

The signup for the 1965 feed grain program will continue through March 26, Carl Allison, chairman of the Hancock County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today.

Applications may be filed in the county office in New Cumberland between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. Mondays through Fridays. The office, however, is closed from noon to 1 p. m. each day.

The voluntary program combines corn, grain sorghum and barley in a single feed grain base. New provisions this year allow substitution of feed grain for wheat or vice versa for growers who participate in both programs, and a special provision for designated varieties of malting barley.

Motorist Forfeits

LISBON — Paul J. Pappas, 43, of Canton forfeited a $15 appearance bond Wednesday night in Mayor Dean Stockman's Court on charges of improper passing. He was cited Feb. 10 by police.

First Fireworks Of Session

Senate Democrats Block 4 Rhodes Appointments

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Democrats in the Ohio Senate have blocked four Republican appointments by GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes in a move that produced the first fireworks of the legislative session.

The action came Wednesday by roll call votes of 16-15 with one Republican member of the evenly-divided Senate absent. Sen. Frank W. King, Democratic floor leader, led the move which touched off heated partisan debate.

Rhodes declined comment on the development but a spokesman for his office indicated the governor will make new appointments soon to at least two of the posts.

Rejected were the appointments of:

Ralph T. Shipley, Canton, to the Board of Regents.

James R. Gould, Dayton, to the Board of Tax Appeals.

Carl A. Mintz, Shaker Heights, to the Cleveland district's Workmen's Compensation Regional Board of Review.

Frank C. Manak of Cleveland Heights to the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation's advisory board.

The governor's top assistant, John M. McElroy, said the Senate action automatically left the posts vacant because all four appointees had been sworn in.

Leetonia Slates Vote

On New School Levy

The Leetonia Exempted Village School District has asked the County Election Board for a place on the May 4 ballot for a vote on a new 2-mill levy for current expenses that would be in effect five years.

The proposition raises to 16 the number of special questions and issues slated for a vote in special elections on the same date as the primaries.

As the Leetonia district overlaps into two Mahoning County precincts, the issue also will be certified to the Mahoning County Election Board.

Weirton Steel Club

To Convene March 13

WEIRTON — The annual spring meeting of the Weirton Steel Co. Employees 25 - Year Club will be held at 7 p. m. Saturday, March 13, at the Weirton Community Center. Robert Kerr, president, announced.

A total of 524 members will be honored for 30 and 35 years of service. 178 will receive awards for having completed 35 years of service with the company and 346 will be presented 30-year emblems.

Fire Damages Trailer

WEST POINT — Fire caused an estimated $150 damage at 6:50 a. m. today in a house trailer owned by George Brown, a mile east of West Point on Old Route 30. Eight volunteer firemen and two trucks responded but the fire was out when they arrived.

It is illegal for former officeholders to be held over pending new appointments.

He added that new appointments probably will be made shortly for the board of tax appeals and the Cleveland district board of review. The other groups can function properly with vacancies for some time, he said.

Participants in the debate included King, Sen. Ross Pepple, R-Allen, Sen. William Daddens, R-Hamilton and Sen. Charles L. Pancake, D-Athens.

King led off the proceedings with a motion to bring the appointments up for immediate consideration.

Republican Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray, R-Miami, objected and King's motion was put to a roll call vote with Democrats prevailing 16-15.

Daddens led off Republican blasts with a charge that Democrats, acting in the absence of hospitalized Sen. Fred L. Hoffman, R-Hamilton, were taking advantage "of human misery."

King asserted there was "nothing vindictive" in the move by Democrats whom he said were acting with responsibility.

He said it is impossible to imagine what legal questions might arise if actions of the appointees, serving without Senate confirmation, should be challenged.

Phone Aide Named

Steelmark Chairman

W. V. Archer Jr., commercial manager of the C. & P. Telephone Co. in Weirton has been named chairman of the steering committee for Upper Ohio Valley Steelmark Month, to be held in the area during May.

Co-operating with the steering committee in planning the annual Steelmark Month program as "a salute to the steel industry" are Chambers of Commerce in Weirton, Steubenville, Follansbee and Wellsburg. Preliminary planning is under way, Archer said, with various Steelmark Month events to be announced as schedules are developed.

Council At Hookstown

To Continue Tax Fee

The custom of paying the tax collector 5 per cent of his collections was continued by Hookstown Council at a meeting Wednesday night at the Borough Building.

Francis Doak is tax collector.

The report of Mrs. Mildred Wright, auditor, for 1964 was accepted. Bills totaling $292.18 were ordered paid.

James Anderson, president, presided. The next meeting will be held the week of March 14.

Rt. 20, Harold Ferguson and Robert Trotter, both of East Liverpool R. D. 3, and Frank Lyons of East Liverpool R. D. 2, attended and will work with the group.

The next meeting will be held March 9 at the hall. The club will select projects, elect officers and pick a name.

Firemen At Industry

Told Audit Completed

Charles Karolweski, audit committee chairman, reported at the meeting of the Industry volunteer fire department Monday night that the audit of books for 1964 has been completed.

Alan Craft, president, conducted business and expressed appreciation to Industry residents who contributed to the annual "Buck a Month" drive conducted by firemen recently.

Fire Chief William Tichy, presented the budget for 1965 to the Industry Council. George Brown was accepted as a new member. The next meeting will be held March 3.

Lisbon Meeting Set

LISBON — Movies of two famous trotting races, "The Little Brown Jug" and "The Hambletonian," will be shown when the Lisbon Trot and Pace Club meets Saturday at 7 p. m. at St. George's Parish Hall. Dean Stockman, president, will preside. Lunch will be served.

Ex-Crucible Aide Joins Blaw Knox

Richard F. Wilton of the Midland - Fairview Rd., Ohioville, has accepted a position as design draftsman in the engineering department of the Blaw Knox Co.'s Aetna Standard Division in Ellwood City.

He resigned from the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., where he was employed as a detail draftsman for 16 years.

Wilton, his wife and four children will continue to reside in Ohioville, where he is justice of the peace. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Midland Lions Club and member and past president of the Men's Club of the Midland First Presbyterian Church. He also belongs to the Ohioville volunteer fire department and the East Liverpool Camera Club.

Wilton was honored Friday night at a dinner at the New Riviera Restaurant in Midland by 30 of his fellow workers of Crucible. He was presented a gift.

Truck Damages Auto In Salineville Mishap

SALINEVILLE — Moderate damage was caused to the side of a parked auto in the West End Wednesday night when struck by a backing truck, Police Chief Earl Laney reported.

Clifford David Rhodes, 18, of 304 Water St. backed the truck from a drive and struck the side of the parked auto owned by Mrs. Margaret Thorne of Wellsville. Rhodes was cited before Mayor Stanley Fitch March 11.

New Discount Drug Store Begins Operations Here

A new store, Dynamic Drugs, opened today at 507 Market St. It is a new deviation of the Schuman Drug Stores of Canton, whose president is Edward Schuman.

The Schuman company was started in 1928 upon Schuman's graduation from Ohio State University's School of Pharmacy.

Other officers of the company are: Sheldon W. Fante, executive vice president and general manager; Arthur Gottlieb, vice president, and Stephen Schuman, treasurer.

Three of the four officers are graduates of the School of Pharmacy and are active registered pharmacists. There are five Schuman stores in Canton and other stores are located in Massillon, Alliance, Dover, Steubenville, Fostoria, Lancaster and Wooster.

Schuman said the store here is the second of many such stores that the company will open in the next several years under the Dynamic Discount name.

He said the main floor of the establishment here will carry a complete selection of nationally-known cosmetics, beauty supplies, feminine hygiene needs, perfumes, candy, smoking needs, shaving supplies, cameras, film and a paperback department. It also will have a complete prescription department, in addition to a gift card and gift wrap department on the lower level.

Richard Schuman, son of the founder, will be in charge of the store during the "grand opening." He is a graduate of Ohio Northern University, with a Bachelor of Pharmacy degree.

The store has been completely modernized and air-conditioned, Schuman said. It will be closed on Sundays.

The lease for the new business was negotiated by Emanuel M. Bondy of the Bondy Realty Co.

Glass Broken At Poolroom, Man Arrested

An East End man was jailed by police late Wednesday night after he allegedly kicked out a pane of glass in the front door at the American Poolroom, 124 E. 6th St., and then entered the building.

Frank Duncan, 1235 St. George St., was taken into custody by Patrolmen Karl W. Samples and W. F. Copestick after police received a telephoned report from a Dixonville woman that she had seen a man kick out the 24-x-48-inch glass panel.

The officers said Duncan was intoxicated. He was booked into jail initially on a charge of disorderly conduct by being in a state of intoxication.

Gus Dauka, 1852 Smithfield St., is the owner. James Dauka made a check of the premises and said he could find nothing missing, police said.

Patrolman Robert B. Pyle, desk officer, received the report of the incident at 11:45. He dispatched Officers Samples and Copestick in a cruiser. Lt. Kenneth Mooney directed the investigation.

Officer Samples filed an additional charge of malicious destruction of property against the 28-year-old East End man shortly before he was arraigned this morning before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. The value of the glass was set at $50.

Duncan, pleading guilty to both counts, was fined $50 and costs on the intoxication charge and sentenced to 30 days in County Jail on the property destruction charge. The judge said he may reduce the jail sentence if Duncan makes restitution for the broken glass.

In an unsworn statement to the court, Officer Samples said Duncan was asleep in the poolroom earlier last night and was asked to leave when it closed. He said the woman witness reported Duncan kicked in the glass, entered the premises, and then returned to the sidewalk.

Counties Share In License Fund

A total of $719,821 was distributed to Columbiana County and its subdivisions during 1964 from Ohio motor vehicle license funds.

The distribution included $475,243 to the county, $159,444 to municipalities and $94,207 to townships.

Jefferson County's total amounted to $583,441 — $382,164 to the county, $88,921 to the municipalities and $50,964 to the townships.

The total state distribution was $84.3 million.

ELHS Team Wins 3rd Time In TV Quiz Show

Winning its third consecutive game, an East Liverpool High School team captured a trophy Wednesday night on the "Hi-Test" television quiz show on WSTV-TV in Steubenville.

The team of two boys and two girls defeated a Southern Local team, 180-50, to earn the trophy after earlier victories over Seton Central and Weirton High Schools.

The quiz contest was taped last night for showing Saturday at 12:30 p. m.

Members of the team were Bill Brown, history; Debbie Salisbury, science; Pat Chema, English, and Rosemary Morris, mathematics. Chema substituted last night for Mike Snowden, who was a member of the team on its first two appearances.

Lions Club At Lisbon Sets Easter Egg Hunt

ADA, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Northern University has selected a non-minister for president for the first time in the Methodist school's 94-year history.

Dr. Samuel Lewis Meyer, 58, academic vice president of the University of the Pacific in Stockton, Calif., was named Wednesday by the board of trustees to succeed retiring Dr. F. Bringle McIntosh Sept. 1.

McIntosh has been president at ONU since 1949.

Dr. J. Otis Young, chairman of the trustees who made the announcement at a special meeting in Columbus, termed Meyer "an outstanding churchman, a distinguished scholar and seasoned administrator."

A graduate of Central College, Fayette, Mo., Meyer has served on faculties at Central, Florida State University, the University of Tennessee, Emory University and the University of Virginia.

Utility Rates Unaffected By Strip Mine Regulation

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
Review Staff Correspondent.

COLUMBUS — Ohioans who are concerned that tighter strip mining controls might be reflected in higher utility rates

Rep. Wetzel's Bill Would Insure Pools

COLUMBUS — A bill to permit election boards to buy liability insurance on property used for polling places was introduced in the House Wednesday by Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, R-Columbiana.

Wetzel, who sponsored a similar bill two years ago, said owners should not be held liable for mishaps on their properties when they have been offered to the election board.

got some reassurance Wednesday from a man who has been through it before.

James Cunningham, Pennsylvania's reclamation chief, told the Senate Agriculture and Conservation Committee that power companies in his state are applying for rate reductions 14 months after enactment of a tough strip mine law.

Cunningham flew to Columbus yesterday with the consent of Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton to support Sen. Edmund A. Sargus' bill to impose new controls on Ohio strip mine operators.

The Belmont county Democrat has patterned his bill closely after the Pennsylvania law.

Opponents to tighter regulations have contended that power companies — among the heaviest coal users — would have to increase consumer rates if strip miners are required to pay more to reclaim stripped land.

Under the new Pennsylvania law, said Cunningham, per-acre reclamation costs run 3½ cents to 7 cents per gross ton of coal removed, depending on the type of reclamation required.

Sargus pointed out that some Ohio operators have contended the law would cost them 32 cents to $4 a ton for each acre reclaimed.

Cunningham said the new strip mine law has driven few operators out of business. He said his inspectors estimate the number at 14.

Meanwhile, the state issued 383 strip mining licenses in 1964, compared to 357 in 1963. He said 334 have been issued so far this year.

Commenting on the controversial issue of requiring terracing or back-filling of high walls at the last mining cut, Cunningham said, "high walls are unknown in Pennsylvania from now on." The maximum grade allowed is 45 degrees, he said.

Cunningham, a former strip miner, was questioned at length by Sen. Oakley Collins, R-Lawrence, who operates a strip mine.

He refuted Collins' contention that soil conditions in Pennsylvania permit cheaper stripping than in Ohio. And he maintained Pennsylvania and Ohio coal veins are practically the same.

Cunningham said Pennsylvania has only about a 6 per cent turnover in strip mine operators, compared to 25 per cent in Ohio.

The Pennsylvania official was among seven witnesses testifying in favor of Sargus' bill.

Others included William J. Greenlee, former Belmont County school superintendent; Mrs. Harry Vankirk of Blacklick, the Rev. William Stauffer of Sugar Creek, the Rev. John Vicsak and Homer Edington of Belmont County, and Dr. Stanley Tschantz of New Philadelphia.

Irving Dickman, chief of Ohio's Forestry - Reclamation Division, is scheduled to testify at the next hearing Monday night. Committee chairman Max Dennis, R-Clinton, said at least two hearings will be held for opponents after Monday.

Chester Girl, Youngstown Resident Exchange Vows

In the First Christian Church of Chester on Feb. 14, Miss Judy Nesselroad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Nesselroad of Georgia Ave., Chester, became the bride of John Kosola, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Kosola of Youngstown, with Robert Schondelmayer, minister, officiating for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride wore a white wool suit with Navy accessories and a headpiece of cabbage roses and a theater veil. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white rosebuds and lily-of-the-valley tied with white satin streamers.

Miss Kathy Nesselroad, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a blue print crepe dress with matching Dior bow headpiece and veil. Her Colonial bouquet consisted of pink rosebuds.

David Kosola, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride's mother chose a three-piece knit wool ensemble of apple green with brown accessories and the mother of the bridegroom, a floral print crepe dress with matching Dior bow headpiece and veil. Her Colonial corsages complemented their attire.

A reception followed at the

The bride is employed as a hair designer at Coiffure Creations, Inc., at Boardman and her husband is a salesman for Kirby Sanitronic at Youngstown. The newlyweds are residing in North Lima.

Miss Melva Vranes Weds In Midland Church Nuptial

Miss Melva Vranes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milan Vranes of Ohio Ave., Midland, became the bride of Ronald C. Skinner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm L. Skinner of Arlington, Va., the afternoon of Feb. 14 at 1:30 o'clock in the Midland Methodist Church.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. Stanton River, pastor, before an altar decorated with palms, ferns, cibotium, and two standards of white chrysanthemums. The family pews were marked with white satin bows.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Edna Neely, organist, and the soloist was Mrs. Lloyd Murphy.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length white gown of faille taffeta. It featured a scoop neckline, long, pointed sleeves and a fitted bodice highlighted with Alencon lace trim. The skirt, styled with a bow at the back waist, was also trimmed with Alencon lace and ended in a detachable chapel train.

Her silk illusion elbow-length veil was held in place by a pill-box-type crown of matching Alencon lace and seed pearl trim. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations with English ivy centered with a white orchid. Her only jewelry was a single strand of cultured pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

The bride observed the familiar wedding traditions, including a sixpence in her shoe, belonging to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Rudy Vranes, of New Brighton, a blue garter, and a white lace handkerchief borrowed from her maid of honor, Miss Patricia Szurley.

The maid of honor wore a floor-length gown of rouge red velvet, styled with an obi back and an A-line skirt, fashioned with two pleats in the front. Her headpiece was a rouge red velvet cabbage rose with a brief veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of variegated carnations with English ivy.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Vranes, Miss Dee Engle of Fairview and Miss Judy Mulach of Ohio View.

They were attired in gowns similar to that worn by Miss Szurley. Their headpiece and bouquets also matched their gowns. As gifts, the bride gave her attendants, inscribed silver charms.

The bride's mother wore a pink silk sheath, the bridegroom's mother chose a turquoise wool sheath, and the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Myrtle Birch of Arlington, was attired in a black lace ensemble. They wore orchid corsages.

Claude Skinner of Arlington, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Rudy Vranes, brother of the bride, Obrad Cvetovich of Midland and Donald Miller of Ohioville.

A reception for 200 guests was held at The Willows Motel in Industry by parents of the bride. A four-tier wedding cake highlighted the bridal table.

The cake was cut by Mrs. Lawrence Francis of Ellwood City, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Lester Burlingame and Mrs. Stanley Szurley, both of Midland.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of Midland High School and is a secretary with the Navy Department in Washington. Her husband is a graduate of Wakefield High School in Arlington and works for the Prudential Building Association in Washington.

The newlyweds are residing in Arlington after a honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains. For traveling, the bride wore a white butte knit ensemble with black accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

A rehearsal dinner was held by the bridegroom's parents Feb. 13 at The Willows Motel.

Baxter-Boice Ceremony Held At Church In Media

Miss Barbara Lynn Boice became the bride of David Edward Baxter Saturday afternoon in the St. John's Chrysostom Catholic Church of Media, Pa., with Fr. A. W. Knapp, pastor, officiating for the double ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Eleanor Boice of Minerva St., and the late George Boice, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Baxter of Wallingford, Pa.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her uncle, Douglas Alspaugh, of Simsbury, Conn. She wore a waltz-length dress of white lace designed with a scalloped Sabrina neckline and long, pointed sleeves. A lace edging outlined the neckline and skirt hem. Her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a pearl tiara.

She carried an arrangement of white roses and lily-of-the-valley centered with a white orchid. All the familiar traditions were observed.

Miss Katherine Nordine, formerly of East Liverpool, was maid of honor. She was attired in a pale yellow wool suit with a yellow brim hat, faced in white. Her corsage was of yellow tearoses.

Robert I. Baxter Jr. served as his brother's best man.

The mother of the bride chose a turquoise suit with matching hat and the bridegroom's mother, a gray satin dress with floral hat. White orchid corsages complemented their attire.

A reception followed at the Town House of Media, and the buffet table was centered with a three-tier cake topped with wedding bells.

Attending along with the bride's mother was her aunt, Mrs. George B. Imbrie of Youngstown.

The bride is a graduate of East Liverpool High School and of Skadron College of California. She was formerly employed at the Frank Young Importers of New York.

Her husband is a graduate of Malvern Preparatory School and is now attending Drexel Institute on Technology in Philadelphia. Following a honeymoon the newlyweds are residing in Highland Park.

The Big Soap Opera Question

What is a soap opera? The question promises to agitate the TV business a great deal in coming days. Reason: to some people there is a stigma, real or imagined, attached to the long-common name for TV's daytime series.

Now that the networks are going in for Richard Doan, it is evident that there will be a growing effort to shake off the appellation as it applies to current and planned multiweekly night series.

NBC OFFICIALS, for instance, are beginning to go out of their way to deny that their new twice-weekly format for "Dr. Kildare," beginning next fall, will mean the show has become a soap opera.

ABC, which started the whole thing by introducing a twice-weekly "Peyton Place" this season, hasn't fought the name up to now, but is beginning to show signs of doing so.

"You just can't equate 'Peyton Place' with the average daytime serial," Edgar Scherick, ABC-TV's programming vice president, insisted.

"The daytime soaps are many levels below what is going on at night. The only similarity, really, is that they're both continuing stories. But 'Peyton Place' is a filmed production, with big names like Dorothy Malone, and such factors remove it from the soap opera classification, in my judgment."

SCHERICK added that he felt "the writing, the casting and the production on 'Peyton Place' are much better than those of many of the hour dramas running on television."

"I don't take any offense at its being called 'soap opera,'" he went on, "but I don't think it's a correct terminology. It's a disservice to 'Peyton Place' to call it a soap opera."

On the other hand, CBS' new twice-weekly evening serial, expected to start in May and to be derived out of the network's popular daytime, "As The World Turns," will be "true soap opera," Scherick observed.

The CBS serial will be produced "live on tape" out of New York, as most daytime serials are.

THE ABC programmer recalled that it was the late James Thurber who first dubbed radio daytime serials "soap operas," because they largely were sponsored by soap manufacturers.

Most broadcasters concede there is no hard-and-fast definition for soap opera. It is agreed generally that one essential ingredient is a continuing, serialized plot, surrounded by shorter sub-plots, and usually featuring cliff-hanger endings to episodes.

Another typical ingredient is a sudsy emotionalism in the depiction of a central character's long-suffering reactions to the vicissitudes of life. It's a trait familiar to daytime TV's housewives, if not to their spouses.

MORT WERNER, NBC programming boss, insists "Dr. Kildare" will be converted to two half-hour entertainments on rival chains than to pursue the soap opera trend.

In fact, the NBC official argues that it will not be possible to classify "Dr. K" in any respect as a "soap."

"It isn't going to be a serial, and it won't have cliff-hanger plots," he said. "Some of the stories may be two-parters, some in three, four or five parts. And some new characters probably will be added."

But the basic dramatic approach will not be substantially altered, he added.

The problem Werner, Scherick and their TV network fellows face, of course, is how they're going to get the public to distinguish between soap operas and nonsoup operas.

Stuttering Eased In Time By Patience

I'm greatly pleased with the increasing number of children and youths who write me about their personal problems. What pleases me most is that they believe in me, believe I care, and trust me not to reveal their identity.

Always I wish I might meet with these young correspondents privately and talk with them; that I also might meet their teachers, parents, relatives and close friends, and be able to show them how they could help the child or youth writing of his or her problem.

Here is a letter from a young girl:

"I AM 14, and I stutter terribly. I mostly stutter when I read orally in school, or give an oral report. I also stutter when I talk, but I try to arrange my words in a way, so I won't stutter too much. I am very sensitive about stuttering, and I would appreciate very much, any information that you could send me. I would especially like the following pamphlets: 'Stuttering,' and 'The Nervous Child.' I read your column often, and I enjoy it."

Enclosing the bulletins, I answered her letter concerning her problem like this:

I just believe you are going to conquer stuttering in the future. Keep on planning what you are going to say in class. Aim to make it brief. Then try to make yourself say just that. Take lots of time and never be in a hurry.

It would be fine if you would read aloud to yourself while alone for fifteen or twenty minutes a day; and to sing, especially along with groups of other persons. Perhaps the best thing you could do for self-help would be to read aloud to a very young child to amuse him. Chances are you would rarely stutter then.

I WISH I could talk to your teachers and parents and a few of your pals and entreat them not to notice your stuttering and not to breathe differently or act differently when you are having trouble saying what you want to say, but to help you feel more comfortable then.

While you are home try to cultivate conversation in the family. Some time, when you feel very comfortable and affectionate with your parents tell them they could help you if they would be so kind as to wait and be calm and patient while you are speaking. Ask them not to tell you to speak more slowly or to repeat after them, but always to help you feel that all is well.

When with an informal group of your friends, be a good listener and don't talk till you have something to say and feel ready to say it. But don't keep yourself from talking when you fear you might stutter. The others present will like you better if you can let them feel you are not ashamed of your stuttering. You really shouldn't be. It's nobody's business but yours.

In these social groups and in the family circle, try to forget yourself and laugh and frolic with them. There is no better way to forget yourself. The more you can do, the less likely you will be to stutter.

AT SCHOOL you might choose to take a teacher into your confidence and work out privately with her an understanding that you will give her certain secret signals when you are eager to talk in class, or when you don't feel ready to do so.

If your school has a speech expert, he or she might be glad to give you help. This expert might be able to prevail on your parents and teachers to have more understanding, helpful ways with you.

Try to get plenty of sleep and outdoor fun and don't let yourself get burdened with too much book work or activities outside school. When you feel tense or excited try to go somewhere to calm down and relax. Avoid viewing TV programs of violence.

Maybe you will sit down and write me more of your experiences, your hopes and plans. I might get more ideas from what you write for helping you. I surely would like to help you to help yourself. I'll bet you are a choice person.

Millport Couple Will Be Honored

Johnson, Eight Justices Attend Frankfurter Rite

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and eight Supreme Court justices attended a private memorial service Wednesday for Felix Frankfurter, retired justice who died Monday at 82.

The half-hour service, held at Frankfurter's apartment, brought together more than 100 close friends and legal associates of the one-time Harvard law professor who served on the high court from 1939 until 1962.

Johnson, who corresponded regularly with Frankfurter, spoke with Mrs. Frankfurter before returning to the White House. She is ailing and attended in a wheel chair. Only William O. Douglas of the current members of the Supreme Court was not present. He is out of town.

The Frankfurter family requested that no press representatives attend the service and no public service of any kind is planned, said a spokesman for the Supreme Court.

"Africa's Uphill Struggle for Maturity" was the article given by Mrs. Perlee Bye.

The Esther Circle met with Mrs. Richard Kennedy of N.

Workshop Set For Faculty Of 5 Schools

A workshop for teachers of five school systems in the county will be held Friday at Lisbon on the theme, "American Heritage."

Classes will be suspended tomorrow to permit 250 teachers to attend from Wellsville, East Palestine, Leetonia, Columbiana and Lisbon.

W. C. (Tom) Sawyer, senior vice president of the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa., will give the keynote address. Other guest speakers include Stu Wilson of Wellsville, R. Max Guard, county commissioner and area historian, and Charles T. Merriman, principal at Coshocton High School.

The all-day session at Lisbon High School will begin at 8:45 a.m., with registration, refreshments and exhibits, and the program starts at 9:15. It will include invocation by the Rev. Fred A. Shultz, pastor of the Methodist Church; Boy Scout pledge and anthem, and special music by the Lisbon High School Chorus directed by James Kennedy with Miss Jodine Pilmer accompanist.

The welcome will be given by Dr. Wade Bacon, president of the Lisbon Board of Education; Oliver H. Payne, superintendent of the host school and general chairman, will give introductions and announcements; followed by keynote address and exhibits by Boy Scouts, Lisbon Historical Society, Camp Fire Girls, DAR Chapter and American Legion Auxiliary. Three group meetings will follow.

Lisbon principals, Miss Della Wetzel (McKinley), Charles Powell (Lincoln), and George M. Nace Jr. (high school), planned and the afternoon sessions, which will include discussion of grade levels.

Ohio Soldier's Body Being Shipped Home

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The flag-draped casket of an Ohio soldier killed Feb. 10 in the bombing of a U. S. billet in South Viet Nam has been shipped home along with caskets of seven other GIs killed in the attack.

The body of Spec. 5 Clarence L. Coleman of St. Marys, Ohio, left San Francisco by air Wednesday, the Army said.

Least Coin Rites

The least coin was presented by Mrs. Frank McKarns and Mrs. Dale Gates, spiritual life leader, led devotions.

Mrs. George Lafferty discussed the countries of Sudan and Rio Muni, and a letter from an African woman and a review of previous material Mrs. Kennedy comprised the missionary program.

Fifteen members of the Martha Circle met at the home of Mrs. C. D. Libby of W. Lincoln Way. Mrs. A. E. Christopher and Mrs. Chester Kennedy were co-hostesses.

The least coin was led by Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Christopher had devotions.

Mrs. Donald Lepley was program leader, using the three women theme.

Devotions were led by Mrs. W. E. Nold and the least coin was given by Mrs. Liggett.

Mrs. Ed McKee, program chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Liggett, to continue the mission study.

A pre-nuptial shower in honor of Miss Carol McDevitt, bride-elect of Fred Campsey, was given Tuesday evening by Mrs. Elvin Davis of E. High St., assisted by Mrs. Howard Temple. Fifteen attended.

Prizes for games were awarded Mrs. Richard Woods, Mrs. Ellen Campsey, Miss Barbara McDevitt and Mrs. Foy McDevitt.

Ohio Power Hits Rehearing Move In Rate Cut Plan

CANTON — The Ohio Power Co. of Canton today termed as "ridiculous" the request by two gas companies for a rehearing of a Public Utilities Commission order granting Ohio Power permission to lower its rates for total electric schools.

"This is the first time in our history that anyone ever has objected to our efforts to lower our electric rates," an Ohio Power official said.

Ohio Power was granted PUCO authority to reduce its rates to 31 total electric schools effective Jan. 26, representing a total annual savings of $37,000 to the schools.

The new school rate stirred action by the Columbia Gas of Ohio and the Ohio Valley Gas Co., which filed a motion to intervene with the PUCO, claiming Ohio Power's action in lowering school rates was "unjust, unreasonable, unjustly discriminatory, unjustly preferential and in violation of law." The two gas firms charged the new school rate was designed "solely to destroy competition."

In seeking to lower its rates, Ohio Power said it was attempting to sell electricity at the lowest possible cost. Ohio Power said the new school rate could not be considered discriminatory nor preferential inasmuch as it did not preclude the use of gas ranges for demonstration purposes in total electric schools, nor other gas-fired instruction equipment.

Language Instructors Will Meet At Bethany

College and public school foreign language instructors and co-ordinators from Hancock, Brooke, Ohio, Marshall and Wetzel Counties have been invited to a dinner - conference at West Liberty State College Monday.

Dr. Emery J. Egyhazy, associate professor of foreign languages at West Liberty, will be host, and Daniel M. Franzblau, new State Department of Education consultant for modern foreign languages, will be present.

Problems of regional concern to both colleges and public schools will be discussed, the college said.

Appeals Court Skips Salem Ward Case

LISBON — The 7th District Court of Appeals Wednesday ruled against a case involving the validity of a ward realignment in the city of Salem.

The panel marked the case not at issue at this time because necessary legal papers had not been filed with the court within the prescribed period.

Common Pleas Judge Raymond Buzzard ruled the city's change in the ward boundaries valid Jan. 21, but this was appealed by Atty. Guy Mauro on behalf of Councilmen Harold Astry and Albert Lesch.

The Appellate Court indicated the case may be heard later when the proper papers have been filed.

In other action, the panel dismissed an appeal in the case of the State of Ohio against John Pounds, serving a term in the Ohio Penitentiary for armed robbery.

Another case held not at issue was that of the Union Banking Co. against the United States Fidelity and Guarantee Co.

Arguments were heard in two cases which were held for a later ruling — Donald L. Moore, a minor, and William H. Moore, his father, against Mervin J. Vonada, involving a personal injury and damage suit, and Mary H. Brown against James H. Howard over an award for personal injuries.

Mishaps Hurt Girl Students

Three district girls injured in school mishaps were among nine area residents treated at City Hospital Wednesday.

Mary Lee, 18, daughter of Leslie Lee, 1909 Pennsylvania Ave., suffered a possible concussion when she fell at school.

Carolyn Kwasnik, 18, daughter of John Kwasnik, 409 Almont St., received a sprained left ankle in a fall in gym class. Korrine Smith, 13, step-daughter of George Wolf of Westfield, was treated for bruises of the right hand on which a desk top fell at school.

While washing dishes, Sharon Eddy, 17, daughter of Otis Eddy of New Cumberland R.D. 2, received a laceration of the right wrist.

Thomas Stillwagon, 30, of Ruth St., suffered a cut of the right thumb on a storm door.

In a fall from a chair, Billy O'Rourke, 7, son of Mrs. Louise O'Rourke, 1830 Harvey Ave., received a laceration of the lip. Andrew Galas, 8, son of Kenneth Galas, 1720 Smithfield St., suffered a fractured right arm in a fall.

Fred Goddard, 64, of 505 California Ave., Chester, was treated for a laceration of the head after he bumped against metal at work at the Homer Laughlin China Co. yesterday morning.

John McIntosh, 32, of Chester R. D. 1 suffered a deep cut of toe when an ax fell on his foot at home.

More than 2,000 scientists are employed by West German Photographic firms for research and development.

2 Key Plans Set In Vote Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is narrowing its planned voting legislation to two key proposals — a sweeping constitutional amendment that not only would ban literacy tests but guarantee the vote to anyone of age who is of sound mind and never has been convicted of a felony.

But the administration is under considerable pressure from civil rights leaders and congressional liberals to push for immediate legislation that would affect the 1966 elections.

An amendment, one source said, would be lucky to pass Congress and the required 36 state legislatures by the end of the decade.

The consensus of Justice Department officials is that the abolition of literacy tests, now required in 19 states, would require a constitutional amendment.

Department lawyers already are drafting a message for Johnson to send to Congress, possibly in advance of the voting legislation package.

Some key administration officials believe the only thorough solution to the voting problem is a sweeping constitutional amendment that not only would ban literacy tests but guarantee the vote to anyone of age who is of sound mind and never has been convicted of a felony.

Salineville Picks Spelling Winners

SALINEVILLE — Spelling bee winners were announced today for the Salineville Elementary School by James Hanley, principal.

They will compete with other elementary students in the Southern Local District in a spelldown March 7 and 8 at the high school.

The fifth and sixth grade representatives will be Joann Carman, Thomas Burnip, Craig Jones, Patty Arsuffi, Terry Melott, Dorothy Hill, Howard Garren, Bob Chrislip and Dave Griffith.

The seventh and eighth grade winners are Ricky Hull, Terry Webster, Donna Smith, Penny Willis, Ann Maher, Pam Wright.

Ralph Medelkoff, Sandy Maher and Janette Lewis.

Evacuation Ordered, More Slides Feared

STEWART, B.C. (AP) — A rescue crew of 54 men left the wreckage of the Granduc mining camp 30 miles north of Stewart late Wednesday.

Evacuation of the camp site was ordered after danger of more avalanches arose because of heavy snowfall on surrounding mountains and glaciers.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruise —

Dear Heloise: I have been reading the various ways of preventing the feathers or down from working their way to the outer edge of a comforter.

When I buy a new comforter, I stitch — either by hand or machine — diagonally from the corners, forming a large "X" completely across the comforter.

If one has a comforter which has been used, just pat the feathers back into place, then use this method and it will keep them in place permanently.

VIDA MORE.

DEAR HELOISE: This is for ladies who use cake rouge. It seems the little puff never lasts the life of the rouge, and anyone who has ever tried to purchase a rouge puff knows it simply cannot be done!

To solve your problem and have nice, soft, clean rouge puffs whenever you need them, buy a package of moleskin pads (used for foot plasters). They are soft as can be on one side and plastic-backed on the other. Cut any size you need, using your old rouge puff as a pattern.

LOUELLA RICKSECKER.

Gals, you believe it. It's wonderful.

Also, the same idea can be used in vanity cases which come with caked powder.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: This is in answer to "Desperate" who couldn't keep his drip dry shirt tail tucked in.

Buy three white iron-on patches.

es and press them on the outside of the shirt about two inches below the belt line. Put one patch in the middle of the back and one at each side seam.

Result will be no more slipping. . . .

A READER.

Dear Heloise: I have two birds in cages. When giving them lettuce, celery or other greens, I find it very handy to clip the greens to the bar of the cage with a clip-on clothes pin, from the outside of the cage.

The birds like to tug on it and it keeps the greens from the bottom of the cage.

Most cage birds are perch-feeders and like to have their greens at perch level.

HELEN OSTERBANKS.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER:
DEAR HELOISE: The last time I cleaned my Venetian blinds . . . really was!

After cleaning, I tied them carefully with their attachments, wrapped each one separately, labeled it . . . and consigned the whole mess to the attic.

May they rest in peace!

My draw drapes throughout the house are lovely.

ELLEN.

DEAR HELOISE: When some delicacy you are cooking needs basting . . . instead of looking for the pastry brush, use the leafy end of a stalk of celery. It works fine.

D. A. ANGENTY.

You are right as rain! Not only is it convenient, but it adds a little extra zest to whatever you are basting . . . and no pastry brush to wash after you are finished.

Thanks a million.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: There are six in our family, and for 18 years I have bought our toothbrushes with handles the color of our birthstones.

Since two of our birthdays are in September, I buy one light blue and one dark blue.

This way there is no mix-up as to which toothbrush belongs to whom.

THELMA.

DEAR HELOISE: To anchor the crib sheet so little ones can't pull it off, I sew long strips of twill tape to each corner of the sheet. Then I tie the diagonally opposite tapes under the mattress.

KATHRYN VERES.

Why would a family
in Pittsburgh, Pa.
save at Central Federal in Wellsville, Ohio?

Yes, it's true . . . a Pittsburgh Pennsylvania family really is sending us their savings. Why? Well, we believe our generous 4 1/4% dividend rate has a lot to do with it. That extra margin of profit on your savings simply means that your savings goals are realized that much faster. We have a lot of thrifty savers, from a lot of different places — far and near, but they all have one thing in common . . . they want to know that their savings are earning the highest dividend consistent with safety!

SAFETY . . . and speaking of safety — where would your money be more safe than at Central Federal Savings and Loan in Wellsville. You know, of course, that at Central Federal your savings are insured up to $10,000 by an agency of the federal government. Now, combine the fabulous 4 1/4% dividend with insured safety and no wonder everyone is bringing their savings to Central Federal in Wellsville. Why don't you?

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: When I read the letter about Myrtle, who couldn't recognize the apple pie in the cafeteria, it stirred up memories that had been tucked in the back of my mind for 25 years.

In the orphanage where I grew up we used to say, "You can tell when it's apple pie because it tastes like glue. The peach pie tastes like soap."

To this day I can't stand either one.—I.G.

Dear I. G.: I love pie—any kind — and I have made it my business to learn where to get the best.

The finest cherry pies in the world are baked in Traverse City, Mich. Lexington, Ky., has the best pecan pie. Billings, Mont., specializes in banana cream. In Rochester, N.Y., I was served the most delicious lemon pie I ever ate. The yummiest chocolate pies are put together right here in Chicago. Ditto, coconut cream.

Yes, I love pie, but I can't make a decent pie to save my life. My crusts are positively bullet proof! If any of you gals have a sure-fire pie crust recipe please send it on.

Little Worrier

Dear Ann: I'm a girl who is worried sick about my 19-year-old brother.

Chuck started to date this girl who said she was 17. When he found out she was only 15 he was shocked, but he kept going with her. The girl's parents are divorced and her mother works nights so nobody is home to check on her. She can (and does) go out every night of the week and she can entertain Chuck as late as she wants.

My brother has a good job and lives at home. He pays Mom and Dad $25 a week for room and board and feels there have no right to tell him what time to be in or who to take out.

I'm worried sick that this girl will hook Chuck, if you know what I mean. He resents it when anyone tries to tell him anything, especially his kid sister, so I'm hoping you will print my letter. Chuck reads your column every day and he says you are with it.—LITTLE SIS.

Dear Sis: Nobody can hook your brother but he could hook himself. I don't think Chuck is with it — or he would have stopped seeing the girl when he learned her age. When I was a teen-ager they called 15-year-olds "San Quentin quail."

Let's hope Chuck wakes up and smells the coffee before the pot boils over.

Mother Knows Best

Dear Ann: I have filed suit for divorce but it will be several months before I'm legally free. My mother takes care of my 4-year-old son while I work. We all live together and she is on my back constantly about my "morals." I don't know how much more I can take before I blow my stack.

Mother says I have no right to go with men until my divorce comes through. She keeps telling me my husband could make trouble and possibly take the boy away.

She forgets that a girl who has been married is second-hand merchandise. The only way I can make a new life is by going out when I have the chance. These same men may not be willing to wait until everything is legal. A girl who is damaged property can't be fussy. Besides I'm only 22 — too young to sit around the house and rot.

Please help me get my mother off my back.—RITA.

Dear Rita: Your mother is right and I hope you will listen to her. I hope, too, that you will stop thinking of yourself as damaged property and second-hand merchandise. Divorce is a tragedy, not a crime. Unless you have a decent opinion of yourself—and behave as if you do—nobody else will.

Brochures Available To Drivers, Tourists

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Development Department has announced that two brochures for motorists and tourists are now available at auto clubs, travel bureaus and chambers of commerce across the state.

The brochures are "Ohio Farm Vacations," listing 50 farms for vacationers and tourists, and "Ohio Festivals and Special Events for 1965," naming 30 events scheduled for this year.

Red Claims U.S. Failed On Vote Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko says the United States has failed in its fight to strip the Soviet Union and 12 other financially delinquent nations of their General Assembly votes.

"Such a policy of provocations has failed at the 19th session of the General Assembly," Fedorenko said Wednesday in an interview with The Associated Press.

Fedorenko said the penalty question became a dead issue when the U.S. delegation agreed to a roll call in the closing hours of the General Assembly without challenging the voting rights of the Soviet Union and the 12 others that are two years behind in their financial assessments.

When U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson agreed to the ballot which defeated Albania's attempt to force a showdown over peacekeeping dues, he said the move was procedural and did not affect the U.S. demand for voting penalties.

Fedorenko paused when asked if the Soviet Union would have quit the U.N. — as threatened — if the voting penalty had been enforced.

"In such a case the Soviet Union would have to reconsider its attitude toward the United Nations organization," he said.

Sentencing Due Youth Convicted Of Slaying Girl

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Roland D. Pontius Friday will sentence Robert L. Pruett, who was found guilty of first-degree murder in the rape-slaying of 17-year-old Susan Osborne of Conneaut. There was no recommendation of mercy, making the death sentence mandatory.

The jury of nine women and three men deliberated two hours and 45 minutes Wednesday before reaching a verdict. Pruett, 26, of Conneaut, and his wife Marcia, 18, showed no emotion when the verdict was read. Later Mrs. Pruett was led sobbing from the Ashtabula county courtroom.

Defense lawyer Howard Nazor said he would file a motion for a new trial within three days. Pruett was accused of driving the girl to a lovers' lane off Lake Road in nearby North Kingsville Sept. 15, and killing her when she resisted.

Youth Group Sets Quiz Night Event

The Columbiana County Youth for Christ will hold a quiz Saturday at 7:30 p. m. at the Pottery Savings & Loan Co. annex. Quiz Night will be featured with teams of East and Beaver Local Junior High Schools, and Beaver Local, East Liverpool and Hopewell High Schools participating.

Loren Hooker will be the master of ceremonies and Douglas Elliott will be speaker. Those desiring to enter the YFC bowling tournament must sign up for it Saturday night.

Shipping Figure Dies

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Emmet J. McCormack, 85, cofounder of the Moore-McCormack Steamship Lines, Inc., died Wednesday after a long illness.

ELHS Assembly Honors 89 In Scholarship Recognition

Eighty-nine East Liverpool High School students, including 20 sophomores, 24 juniors and 45 seniors, were presented awards at the 13th semi-annual scholarship recognition assembly held Wednesday afternoon at the Memorial Auditorium.

The students were addressed by the Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, co-pastor of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

The program began with the flag salute and the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," followed with the playing of "Bandology" (Osterling) by the White Concert Band, under the direction of Vincent Maola.

Carl Pelini, principal, made the presentation of the awards. The program closed with the school pledge and the Alma Mater.

Those honored were: Sophomores — Ethel Adkins, Thomas Ash, Gary Barringer, Nancy Beatty, Michaela Bekar, Janice Betteridge, Ella Bradfield, Mary Cartwright, Gary Caruso, Linda Crooks, Robert Cunningham, Don Edgar, John Gerace, James Gooding, Susan Greenwood, David Hargreaves, Marilyn Manley, Barbara Rohrer, Judy Silince and Robert Walker.

Juniors — Linda Adkins.

Camp Fire Girls Group Discusses Future Projects

Several future projects were discussed at the meeting of the East Liverpool Area Council of Camp Fire Girls Monday night at the YMCA.

Tentative plans were made for a Red Cross first aid course to be conducted in March by Assistant Fire Chief Alfred Van Dyne.

Founders Day will also be observed in March with the theme, "See You In The Pictures." Sidney C. Porter, president, announced members may attend a training course beginning March 10 at Salem.

The Helping Hands Group of the Horizon Club Girls, who are assisting with the Retarded Children's Class at Elkton, will conduct a ceremonial program Friday at 1 p. m. at the school.

The annual father-daughter dinner of the Bluebirds will be held March 25 at St. Aloysius Parochial School.

The regional conference will be held April 7-10 at Detroit. The next session will be held March 22 when Mrs. Amil Cosma of Salem will be guest speaker.

USW Administrator Files Trumbull Suit

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—James McPhillips, named to take over as administrator of United Steel Workers Local 1375, has filed suit in Trumbull County Common Pleas Court asking for an order to restrain Louis Dellacroe from acting as president of the local, USW International President David J. McDonald ousted all officers of the local last week and made McPhillips administrator.

All officers have complied except Dellacroe, who is appealing his ouster to the union's international executive board. Dellacroe claims his removal was motivated by purely political reasons. He was a strong supporter of I. W. Abel in his campaign to unseat McDonald.

W. Va. To Resist Boundary Move Of Ohio River

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The West Virginia House of Delegates voted Wednesday to inform Congress the state "will strongly resist" any effort by Ohio to move the boundary between the two states to the middle of the Ohio River.

The boundary between Ohio and West Virginia and Ohio and Kentucky is now the low water mark on the Ohio side of the river. Last week the Ohio House adopted a resolution asking Congress to fix the boundary at mid-stream. Ohio says the shore boundary causes great inconvenience and makes fishing and boating laws difficult to administer.

Selma Negro Leaders Call For Bus Boycott

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—Negro leaders, trying to pump new life into their civil rights drive here, have called for a boycott of city buses in the lengthy campaign for voting power.

Plans for a bus boycott were announced Wednesday night after attorneys for the civil rights movement petitioned a federal judge in Mobile to strike down an antidemonstration order issued by a state court judge in Selma.

NCAA Tournament Lands 7

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Penn State and Dayton, which will play in the NCAA, and Boston College, which will appear in the NIT, celebrated acceptance of their bids to the two major post-season college basketball tournaments by bowing over Bucknell, Louisville and Boston University, respectively.

The actual competition on the courts Wednesday night took a back seat to the spirited bidding earlier in the day for teams to fill the 23-team NCAA field and the 14-team NIT.

The NCAA tourney, which determines the national champion, landed seven at-large teams — Providence, Penn State, Dayton, DePaul, Houston, Colorado State University and Oklahoma City. The NIT snared Villanova, Boston College and Detroit.

Because of what a spokesman termed a lack of teams with good records west of the Mississippi, the NCAA cut its field to 23 from 25 and eliminated the first round of the Far West regionals originally scheduled for Corvallis, Ore. Just one more at-large team is needed to complete the field since 15 conference champions automatically qualify.

The NCAA opens with first-round games March 8 in Philadelphia and Lubbock, Tex., and ends at Portland, Ore., on March 20. The NIT opens in New York on March 11 and also ends March 20.

Penn State, which will oppose the Ivy League champion, in the first game of a tripleheader March 8 at Philadelphia, extended its winning streak to 12 and upped its over-all record to 18-3 by whipping Bucknell 68-52.

Carver Clinton paced the Nittany Lions with 22 points as they remained unbeaten at home.

Dayton, 18-6, invaded Louisville and beat the Cardinals from the Missouri Valley Conference 75-70. Jack Warrell led the Flyers with 22 points.

John Austin scored 27 points to lead Boston College over BU 90-65 in a first-round game of the Beanpot Tourney at Medford, Mass. Northeastern Beat Tufts 73-65 in the other first-round game and will play BC in the final next Monday.

Connecticut, virtually certain to compete in the NCAA as the Yankee Conference champ, made it 12 in a row and 20-2 over-all by defeating Manhattan

80-75 in overtime at New York's Madison Square Garden.

It was the first game of a doubleheader. NYU, hopeful of an NIT bid, whipped Notre Dame 60-54 in the second game.

Cincinnati, whose coach Ed Jucker announced his resignation Tuesday effective with the close of the season, upset St. Louis 69-60 thereby virtually clinching the MVC title for Wichita. Ron Krick's 19 points paced the Bearcats to their home court triumph.

All of the top ten teams in the Associated Press poll were idle.

Jones Sets Point Mark For Celtics

(By The Associated Press)

With all the success the Boston Celtics have had in the past nine seasons, they never have had a man win a scoring championship.

The 1964-65 season won't be an exception the way Wilt Chamberlain and Oscar Robertson are going, but it looks like they may have a contender for the future.

Sam Jones — the Celtics' new "super star" — according to Coach Red Auerbach — set a Celtics' season scoring record with his 27 points Wednesday night against Los Angeles. Jones now has 1,763 points, 21 more than the previous high of 1,742 scored by Tommy Heinsohn during the 1961-62 campaign.

Jones ranks fourth in the league scoring race, averaging 25.9 points a game. Jones got a lot of help from Heinsohn and Bill Russell as the Celtics squeaked by the Lakers 97-95.

In other games, Detroit edged Philadelphia 106-104, Baltimore whipped New York 111-100 and St. Louis downed San Francisco 111-103.

Early Signing Of College Gridders Eyed By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The signing of college football players by professional clubs while the athletes still have college eligibility will be examined next in a Senate investigation of Big-time sport.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., chairman of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, expects to take testimony over one or two days. He announced no date for the start of these hearings.

The subcommittee is conducting an inquiry in connection with a bill by Hart and other senators to limit antitrust law exemptions for strictly sports aspects of professional baseball, football, basketball and hockey.

The subcommittee tentatively wound up its investigation of professional baseball Wednesday. Hart told a reporter professional basketball and hockey went on record last year as endorsing the bill and there may be no need to call their officials again unless they want to be heard.

on domination of its affairs by the New York Yankee.

He said the Yanks have had a powerful voice, but that from now on they will be just "one of us."

Allyn said the change came about after the controversial sale of the Yankees to the Columbia Broadcasting System, which the subcommittee has been investigating.

Charles O. Finley, owner-president of the Kansas City Athletics, took a different view, however. He testified that CBS ownership of the Yankees gives the network an unfair advantage in bidding for profitable broadcasting contracts.

South Side Club Sets Signing For Players

The printing of 300 players' contracts was authorized by the south Side Athletic Club, at a meeting Tuesday night at the Hookstown Borough Building.

James Ashcroft, president, said March 31 had been set as the deadline for player signups, and that each district of the club would handle its own registration.

The club voted to renew its charter for another year, after hearing a letter from Hot Stove League president, Cy Butler of Alliance.

Ashcroft named Richard Chambers as chairman of the rules committee, and Jack Mumaw and Richard Trimble as members.

The club accepted a donation of $150 from the auxiliary unit, to be added to their field construction fund. They voted a $10 donation to the Citizens Scholarship Foundation.

A fund raising project presented by Smith Drilling Contractors of Chester was accepted. Plans were made for Ashcroft and Donald Brown, vice president, to attend a meeting of the Newell Legion on March 3, to the clubs rules and regulations with the legion members.

The next meeting will be March 9 at the borough building.

Salem Tech To End Cage Card Saturday

LISBON — Salem Tech will end its basketball season Saturday night when it entertains Michigan Lutheran College at the Salem Senior High School floor.

The Saints have a record of 14-9 for the season and have played such schools as Youngstown University, Detroit University, Gannon, sixth ranking small college in the nation and St. Francis college.

The Saints have two men,

Mervin Gallop and Bennie Jackson, who average over 20 points per game.

Salem Tech will entertain Columbus Tech Friday night at the senior gymnasium. The Columbus club was state champions for Tech schools in 1964.

Rick Barry's Average Is Raised To 38

NEW YORK (AP) — Rick Barry of the University of Miami, Fla., Hurricanes dropped 50 points against Houston and 59 against Rollins in his last games and figures to finish the season as the third-highest scorer in college basketball history.

With one game left to play against Florida State next Monday the 6-foot-7 senior from Roselle Park, N.J., has 949 points in 25 games for an average of 38.0 points.

Only Frank Selvy of Furman with 41.7 in 1954 and Billy McGill of Utah with 38.8 in 1961 have compiled higher season averages. Butch Komives of Bowling Green won the scoring title last year with 36.7.

Barry's 59-point spurge against Rollins is not included in the weekly statistics released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau. These show him with an average of 37.1 on 890 points in 24 games through last Saturday, comfortably ahead of the 37 compiled by the late Wayne Estes of Utah State.

Folley Rates 8-5 Underdog

NEW YORK (AP) — The odds could change by Friday but right now untried, undefeated Oscar Bonavena of Argentina is a surprisingly heavy 8-5 favorite over heavyweight contender Zora Folley.

They are to clash in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden Friday night. It is an interesting match that could lure 10,000 and more fans to the non-television fight.

On the basis of style and experience, the fourth-ranking contender from Chandler, Ariz., should chop up the stocky, flat-footed Argentine.

Bonavena, 22, and a pro only 13 months, has an 8-0 record including seven knockouts. He has fought no one of any consequence. He is slow moving and wide open. The mop-haired youngster depends on the power of his left hook and fair right.

Unless he's had it, this fight should be up Folley's alley. A pro 11½ years, the clever boxer has a 68-74 record, including 38 knockouts.

Four winners in each weight class will qualify for the District meet at Glenwood High School near Canton the following weekend March 5-6.

The schools competing include North Canton, Glenwood, Louisville, Marlinton, Alliance, Salem, Canton Lincoln, Canton McKinley, Canton Central, Canton Timken and Beaver Local. Tickets for the tourney will be $1 for adults and students. Children under 12 will be admitted free.

Cookie Gilchrist Traded To Denver

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Cookie Gilchrist's stormy three-year career with the Buffalo Bills, American Football League champions, is over — and the end came as no surprise to anyone.

The Bills traded Gilchrist to the Denver Broncos Wednesday for fullback Billy Joe, the AFL's Rookie of the Year in 1963. No cash was involved.

"It had to come," Coach Lou Saban said. "The situation between Cookie and the Bills had become impossible. I felt a change was necessary."

Gilchrist could not be reached for comment. He had said previously that, on at least five occasions, Saban wanted to trade him.

Last year, before he signed his 1964 contract, Gilchrist asked to be traded. The move was interpreted as an attempt to force the Bills to pay him more than the $28,000 he received.

The 29-year-old fullback had his share of problems both on and off the playing field.

The final straw on the field came last Nov. 15 when he refused to re-enter the Boston game just before halftime and complained that quarterback Jack Kemp was not feeding him the ball often enough.

Gilchrist's pass-protection blocking deteriorated so badly in the second half of the game that Kemp took a real pounding from the Patriots, who won the game.

Saban fired Gilchrist, temporarily, after this performance. He reinstated him 36 hours later.

COOKIE GILCHRIST
Had Stormy Career.

following Gilchrist's apology to Saban and his plea to his teammates for another chance.

Off the field, Gilchrist ran afoul of the law. He was arrested by Buffalo police on a motor-vehicle charge and subsequently was accused of flooring a policeman during a struggle in the police station. That charge was dismissed by the courts.

Central 2nd Among Small College Vote

(By The Associated Press)

The North Dakota Sioux moved in among the first ten teams in The Associated Press' small-college basketball poll today on the strength of a 15-game winning streak and their clinching of the North Central Conference title.

Winner over North Dakota State last week, North Dakota climbed into an eighth-place tie with Grambling in the latest poll of 15 regional experts. The balloting was based on games through last Saturday.

North Dakota has a 21-4 record and each of its setbacks was to major opponents—Bradley, DePaul, Chicago Loyola and Iowa.

There were relatively few other changes in the rankings. Evansville remained a solid leader followed by Central State of Ohio, High Point, Southern Illinois, Fairmont, W.Va. and Gannon.

The Top Ten, with won-lost records and total points:

- |                               |     |

Cincy Victory Follows Jucker's Resignation

CINCINNATI (AP) — Tay Baker's coming reign as head basketball coach at the University of Cincinnati started on an auspicious note Wednesday night as the Bearcats trounced St. Louis, 69-60, in a Missouri Valley Conference game.

The victory came after five consecutive Cincinnati defeats just prior to the resignation of Ed Jucker who has commanded the Bearcats since the fall of 1960. Jucker will remain coach until the end of the season.

In the six seasons that Jucker was at their helm, the Bearcats almost made basketball history by winning three consecutive NCAA championships. They won the title in 1961 and 1962 and Jucker's teams at UC now have won 111 and lost 28 with two games left.

"It's a dream—almost unbelievable," Baker said of his elevation as he chatted with newsmen before the game started. The 36-year-old former paratrooper who became Jucker's assistant in 1960 was out of town on a recruiting trip Tuesday when his mentor's resignation was announced.

"Just to be head coach at UC is honor enough. But when I think that it's my own alma mater, well, words can't express it," Baker added.

Baker coached at various southwestern Ohio high schools after graduating from UC and in 1959 became the freshman coach under present athletic director George Smith. When Smith moved up from his coaching job the following year and was succeeded by Jucker, Baker got Jucker's job.

I'm Not Afraid', Claims Clay Over Death Threat

CHICAGO (AP) — Heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay, known to his Black Muslim brethren as Muhammad Ali, scoffed at reports today that he may be marked for death.

"I fear nobody," he said. "I'm with God. If I'm going to die for truth, I'm ready. I'm not afraid of nothin'."

Rumors have it that the 23-year-old Clay may be next to die in retaliation for the assassination in New York last Sunday of his one-time friend, Malcolm X.

"I'm not afraid," he proclaimed. "You can tell them where I live and that I'm around for the asking. Tell them they're messing with God's messenger when they mess with my leader."

Clay was referring to Elijah Muhammad, head of the Nation of Islam sect to which Clay was converted.

"Tell them if they attack, we will fight back," he added.

At the height of the Black Muslim convention in Chicago this weekend, Clay will give a boxing exhibition in the police-cordoned Coliseum Saturday. Seating capacity is around 10,000.

He will go on display against his brother, Rudy, for a four-round matinee then go another four at night with Cody Jones of Detroit.

Clay, recovered from a hernia operation that postponed his title match with Sonny Liston until May 25 in Boston, will open heavy training for that bout in Miami next week.

Eighth Grade Crown Won By Bright's

George Bright's wears the crown today in the Little Poters Eighth Grade League.

Bright's defeated the Police Dept. 25-17 in the finals of the Eighth Grade tournament Wednesday at Westgate. The Police five had won the regular league title with Bright's finishing second during the season.

Hull paced the new champs with 12 points while Scott and Zanders tallied five each.

In a consolation game, Ogilvie handed Coca-Cola a 43-18 setback. Cunningham's 18 paced Ogilvie's and Watson and Baughman scored five each for the Cokes.

Williamson Nears Perfect Year, Top Spot In W. Va.

By KEN FREED
Associated Press Sports Writer

Time is running out in the regular state high school basketball season and only an unlikely upset by Princeton seems in the way of a perfect season by the Williamson Wolfpack.

Williamson again is ranked No. 1 by the Associated Press sports writers. If the Wolfpack gets by Princeton Friday, it will have an excellent chance to receive the AP season championship trophy.

However, if Williamson slips, Oceana is in a good spot to take over first and the trophy. Williamson received 81 points in front of the Indians.

Stonewall Jackson of Charleston moved into third place in this week's rankings after defeating Kanawha Valley rival Dunbar. The Generals were No. 4 last week, Dunbar third.

There were other changes in the rating, but only Beckley fell from the top 10, losing 10th to Montgomery.

Logan, last week's No. 5 team, advanced to fourth, although the state's defending Class AAA champions lost to Williamson. Logan, however, downed Beckley.

Here are the ratings and point totals, with first place votes in parentheses:

1. Williamson (7)	81
2. Oceana (2)	78
3. Stonewall Jackson	69
4. Logan	56
5. Dunbar	43
6. Triadelphia (1)	43
7. Wheeling	33
8. Charleston	25
9. Fairmont West	15
10. Montgomery	12

Other teams receiving votes, in alphabetical order: Athens, Beckley, Beckley Stratton, Bluefield, Bramwell, Ceredo - Kenova, Elkins, Gary District, Glen Rogers, Herndon, Huntington St. Joseph, Moundsville, Nitro, Parkersburg and Ripley.

Ohio Wesleyan Cager Gains 4th Star Team

WESTERVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Barry Clemens, Ohio Wesleyan's outstanding forward, today became the first player in Ohio Conference history to make the league's all-star team four consecutive years. Clemens, a 6-foot-7 senior, also was the only player to win unanimous selection by the conference coaches picking the team.

A product of Xenia, Clemens was chosen as honorary captain of the squad, which boasts height, speed, experience and scoring punch.

Hiram College placed two men on the eight-man squad, 6-4 Ken Rowen, a senior from Warrensville, and Bill Meyer, 6-2 junior from Macedonia.

An oddity was that league co-titlists Wittenberg and Akron failed to place a player on the first unit.

Rounding out the squad are 6-4 Don Carlos of Otterbein, a Columbus sophomore; Muskingum's Joe Arganbright, 6-4 senior from Columbus; Capital's Dave Veenendaal, 6-3 senior from Detroit; Marietta's Dick Sowar, 5-11 junior from Coldwater and Mount Union's Charles Campbell, a 6-foot junior from Atwater.

Junior Editors Quiz on— RADIATORS

QUESTION: How did radiators come to be so widely used?

ANSWER: What could be more cozy on a cold winter day than being warmed by a hot radiator, like the young man in our picture? We should be grateful that we live in times when radiators are widely used, for until fairly recently, American homes were very differently heated.

American pioneers had to rely entirely on fireplaces. These sound romantic, but much of the warm air went up the chimney, and cold air had to come through chinks to replace that being lost, with the result that the pioneers baked on one side and froze on the other. Cast iron stoves, first made in Lynn, Mass., in 1642, were much warmer, because the iron stove body would radiate heat into the room. But stoves could heat only one room. Experiments with circulating hot water using primitive radiators began in America about 1840. Later came the use of steam. This proved valuable for such large buildings as hotels and apartment houses. Smaller houses at first tended to use hot air or circulating hot water with radiators presenting many surfaces to give out heat. Today, steam, hot water and hot air are all used. Stoves can heat well and are still being used in many places. But the various kinds of central heating, including the kinds which use radiators, are displacing stoves because they can heat an entire house, are cleaner and save time.

FOR YOU TO DO: Radiators give out heat both by "radiation" and "convection." Check the meaning of these words in a dictionary or encyclopedia.

Mental Tests Slated
In Stabbing Incident

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—A juvenile court judge has ordered psychiatric and physical examinations for 17-year-old Harry J.

Madol Jr., an encyclopedia sales man accused of stabbing a pregnant Elyria housewife. Madol pleaded innocent when arraigned Wednesday before Judge Henry P. Webber in connection with the Feb. 16 stabbing of Mrs. Donald Leedy, 28. Madol who lives in Garfield Heights, a Cleveland suburb, was questioned last week in connection with the slaying of Beverly Jarosz, who was killed in her Garfield Heights home Dec. 28. Results of the detector tests given the youth in that case were reported inconclusive.

Sohio Plans To Build
New Plant At Lima

CLEVELAND (AP) — Construction is expected to begin in the spring on a new $15 million acrylonitrile plant in Lima,

Ohio, the Standard Oil Company of Ohio (SOHIO) announced Wednesday. The plant, to be completed in one year, will be built on eight acres next to an existing acrylonitrile plant and will expand production by 200 million pounds per year, said Robert W. Haigh, vice president of chemicals and plastics for SOHIO. Acrylonitrile is used in production of synthetic fibers, plastic resins and synthetic rubber.
